U. S. CONVICTS SPY IN SECRET TRIAL

Weizmann Elected First Israeli President

Carries Voting 83 to 15

Awarded Key To Jerusalem

JERUSALEM—(INS)—Dr. Chaim Weizmann—the scientist-statesman who has championed the Zionist cause for half a century—was inaugurated as Israel's first president today.

The impressive Jerusalem ceremonies followed an early morning secret ballot in which Israel's constituent assembly elected the 74-year-old Dr. Weizmann to the presidency by a vote of 83 to 15.

Crowds of cheering Israelis lined the Holy City's streets to pay tribute to "the grand old man of Zionism."

In the presence of the entire assembly, Dr. Weizmann took the solemn oath of office in Hebrew from Chief Justice Dr. Moshe Smoira.

The traditional sounding of the ceremonial ram's horn — the Shofar—followed the pronouncement of the words:

"Chaim Ben Ozer Weizmann, I declare you the people's choice."

Earlier, Dr. Weizmann and his wife were escorted from their home at Rehovoth to the Holy City by a special committee of 12 assembly members, chosen to represent the 12 tribes of Israel.

On the outskirts of Jerusalem, Mayor Daniel Auster presented the aged president with a golden key to the city.

Thousands of civil and military police lined the streets of Jerusalem's new city as an honor guard.

The solemnity and unity of spirit at the inauguration was in marked contrast to the early morning assembly meeting at which Dr. Weizmann was elected.

Dr. Weizmann — who has been provisional president since last May—won easily over his only rival, Prof. Joseph Klausner, nominee of the Heruth party of the extremist Irgun Zvai Leumi. The vote followed bitter debate.

Klausner's nomination by Heruth was greeted by shouts of "Mussolini!" From left-wing deputies—a reference to the Irgun's purported rightist tendencies. The handful of communists in the Israeli assembly refused to back either candidate, stating that neither "represented the masses."

The bulk of Dr Weizmann's vote came from the three major parties — Premier David Ben-Gurion's moderate Labor Mapai, the leftist Laborite Mapam, and the United Religious parties.

Asks Acquittal For Axis 'Sal'

WASHINGTON — (INS) — "Axis Sally," the sultry siren of the nazi overseas radio, is slated to make a bid for freedom today at her treason trial.

Defense Lawyer James J. Laughlin said he would ask Judge Edward M. Curran to issue a judgment of acquittal" for gray-haired, 48-year-old Mildred E. Gillars.

Laughlin said he would claim that the government has "failed to prove the case set forth in the indictment against Miss Gillars."

Bargaining Rights Urged For Foremen

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The foremen's association of America asked Congress today to give foremen the same bargaining rights as rank and file workers.

Carl Brown, representing the association, said many employers now impose "the same unsatisfactory conditions of employment" on foremen as used to be imposed on rank and file workers before collective bargaining rights were protected by the Wagner act of 1935.

Strike Talks Stymied

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) Special police squads patrolled the streets of Philadelphia today and mounting tension following collapse of peace talks to end a crippling week-long transit strike.

Violence broke out for the first time yesterday.

Spokesmen for the CIO Transit Workers union stalked angrily out of last night's conference with mediators and representatives of the Philadelphia Transportation company.

Michael J. Quill, international TWU president, told newsmen after the sixth full day of fruitless parleys:

"As of now, there are no negotiations. We refuse to meet with messenger boys of the PTC. It's a sham."

OFFER THREE CENTS

William J. Reynolds, the utility's chief negotiator, commented:

"The company's position remains the same. The offer from the company on wage scales is three cents an hour, and the union is insisting on 17 cents."

This deadlock meant that 11,000 trolley, bus and subway employes entered the seventh day of their strike with no end in sight. And Philadelphia's 3,200,000 daily users of public transport continued to scramble to work by any available means.

Hopes for a speedy legal end to the strike also faded when action bogged down on legislation being prepared at the state capital in Harrisburg. A public hearing on an anti-strike bill was set for next Monday.

The concurrent strike of some 4,000 Yellow Cab company and independent drivers piled hardships and real hazards upon the third largest American city.

The Yellow Cab company announced last night that further contract conferences with the AFL Drivers union were "impossible" until the men ended their "illegal" walkout.

Jailed Man Hangs Self

ST. CLAIRESVILLE — (INS) — A 28-year-old West Virginian, accused of the fatal, bedroom shooting of his 22-year-old sister-in-law, was declared a suicide today after hanging himself in his cell.

Harry Vaughan, was found dangling from a window ledge yesterday after pleading innocent to first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Violet Marie Ruckman at Bellaire. The shooting climaxed several months of quarreling with his estranged wife, Dolores.

Belmont County Coroner W. P. Johnson said Vaughan hanged himself with a rope fashioned from stripes of mattress cloth, shortly after a visit from his wife.

He said the prisoner tied the makeshift rope to a rafter and jumped from the window ledge.

Vaughan was also accused of shooting Miss Ruckman's mother, Mrs. Frank Ruckman.

Basketball Team Uses Sled, Skis

BUTTE, Mont. — (INS) — The Ennis high school basketball team is using a sled and skis to travel through snow-swept Montana today.

The squad has been snowbound for more than a week. But the team said it was determined to compete in the Class B district basketball tourney at Butte, come snow or high winds.

Both hit Montana today. But the Cagers had their team of horses and their sled. The 10 players and Coach Maurice Hickey also carried snowshoes and skis, should the sled become bogged down by drifts during their 60-mile trip.

Trial Date Named

SOFIA — (INS) — The Bulgarian news agency reported today that the trial of 15 protestant clergymen charged with espionage will begin on Feb. 25.

NEW SCHOOL SITE—The picturesque E. R. Hartman home at Marion avenue and Carpenter road next fall will become administrative headquarters for Mansfield schools. A new Brinkerhoff-Carpenter building will go up later on the huge lot. Negotiations for the house and property, shown above, are nearing completion.

Named Rent Examiner

McClellan Appointed To Fill Vacancy

The appointment of Mansfield Attorney W. Harold McClellan as examiner for the Mansfield area rent control office was announced today by area rent director George H. Blecker.

McClellan, who will investigate complaints coming to the office, has taken over the post left vacant by the death of Stanley Hout on Jan. 29.

Son of former Probate Judge Charles L. McClellan, Atty. McClellan has been associated with Atty. Allen S. Beach since 1940. He served with the Industrial Commission of Ohio in Columbus from 1937 to 1940.

A native of Mansfield, McClellan attended Mansfield schools and Wooster college and was graduated from Ohio State university's law school. He is president of the Amima club and is a member of the Elks and Eagles lodges, the United Commercial Travelers and attends the First English Lutheran church. McClellan is married and resides at 243 Park drive.

Farmers Start Tapping Trees

CHARDON — (AP) — Smoke curled from the sugar houses throughout Geauga county today as the maple sirup season got into full swing.

Because of the warm weather, the season is about two weeks early this year, Tom White, vice president of the Geauga County Maple Festival, pointed out.

He estimated about two-thirds of the county's trees are ready for "a real run."

"Fact is," White added, "some of our fellows tapped part of their bushes in January and got a couple of sap runs. I suppose that is the earliest date in history."

Saved From Chair

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today commuted the death sentence of Ova Curnutt, 46-year-old Kentuckian, to life imprisonment. He was to have been electrocuted tonight.

'Important and Difficult'

Three-Judge Court To Hear 'Mike' Case

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A three-judge court will hear Lima's "hidden microphone" case—but whether Allen county Common Pleas Judge Moran B. Jenkins will be one of them was undecided today.

The case involving criminal contempt of court charges against police detectives, was to have been heard this morning before Judge Jenkins.

Trial was postponed yesterday, however, pending a decision of Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court. He is to rule on an affidavit charging Judge Jenkins with bias and prejudice.

The affidavit was filed by Sheriff Bailey and two detectives, Bernard L. Burkhart and J. Robert Neeley.

The microphone was found in an unused jury room in the county court house Jan. 24, with wires leading to another unused room below.

Judge Jenkins held a preliminary inquiry the next day and then appointed a three member committee from the Allen County Bar association to investigate and make recommendations.

The three defendants were charged Feb. 8, after the committee had reported.

IMPORTANT CASE

Justice Weygant took the defendants' affidavit under advisement yesterday after a three-hour hearing. At the close of the hearing, the justice suggested that since "this an extremely important" case, it should be heard by three judges, instead of one.

Counsel for the Allen county court and for the defendants agreed to the following arrangement after an open conference before the Supreme Court:

If Justice Weygandt finds Judge Jenkins prejudiced, he will name three other judges.

If he finds Judge Jenkins to be unprejudiced, he will name two judges to sit with Jenkins.

"This is an extremely important matter and it is an extremely difficult matter," Justice Weygandt said at the close of the hearing.

He pointed out that "the integrity" of the Allen County Common Pleas Court has been questioned with the filing of the affidavits charging bias and prejudice.

2 Shoot Way To Freedom

Guard Hurt As Soldiers Escape

FORT MEADE, Md. — (INS) — Two army prisoners, one a convicted murderer, shot their way to freedom at Fort Meade early today and a guard was seriously wounded shortly after the daring break.

An 11-state alarm was broadcast for the escaped men, Robert Nelson, 22, of Rome, Ga., and Donald Nye, 21, of Syracuse, N. Y.

An hour after Nelson and Nye, court martial witnesses who were being held in the post fire station, clubbed one guard and stripped another of his .45-caliber revolver, a third sentry was shot in the face.

The wounded man is Sgt. Walton Morris. He was on duty near the port medical laboratory about a mile north of the fire station, when he heard a noise and started to investigate.

As he approached the laboratory, he was shot from ambush, presumably by one of the escapees. Morris, taken to the post hospital, said he did not see his assailant.

Unemployment Rise Reported In Akron

AKRON — (AP) — Employment in 251 major business concerns here dropped approximately 6,000 in the past year.

The local office of the Ohio State Employment service said approximately 2,000 persons have been laid off since last November. More than half of them worked in manufacturing plants.

Seek Ban On Yule Greenery

Fire Chiefs Ask Legislation

Fire Chief L. J. Steele today joined fire chiefs of Cleveland, Sandusky and Columbus in seeking state legislation prohibiting the sale of inflammable Christmas tree decorations.

Chief Steele, who attended an exploratory meeting in the state fire Marshall's office in Columbus yesterday, said a united effort is being made to rule out the sale of plastic decorations containing electric lights for Yule trees. The chief specifically named "bubble-lights" and plastic birds containing lights inside the molded shell.

Sale of the specific decorations, the chief said, was stopped last Christmas after the Mansfield fire department had received word from the Detroit fire department that 71 fires had been caused by the plastic decorations in an hour and a half in the Michigan city.

Chief Steele said no fires here during the holiday season were attributed to plastic decorations on the trees.

Harry J. Callan, state fire marshal, said no direct action would be taken until a thorough study had been made of all possible fire hazards connected with Christmas decorations. Fire prevention plans are now in the preliminary stage and considerable study of proposed legislative drafts have yet to be made, he added.

Other officials attending the meeting included William R. Ferrie and William Denaple of Cleveland, Wilson McLaughlin of Sandusky, Matthew M. Braidech of the state research division, Assistant State Attorney General John Nolan, Callan and Charles R. Scott of the state fire marshall's office.

Water Still Blocks Roads

Sunny skies and crisp weather greeted Mansfielders today while the weatherman promised that Friday will be partly cloudy, windy and warmer. The mercury dropped to 20 in the city today.

Fears of an Ohio river flood in the Cincinnati area were dispelled as no immediate rain was foreseen. Although the river was below flood stage today, at least 15 roads, one leading into Mansfield, were still closed by high water. Route 545 between Route 314 in Morrow county and Mansfield, was reported closed to travel.

Meanwhile, mountainous snow drifts and flood waters in some areas of the storm-stricken west isolated several communities today, stranding thousands of persons.

Ground blizzards closed more roads in Wyoming and Colorado today but Chinook winds thawed the deep snows on Utah mountain slopes and threatened to set off serious floods.

Strong winds swept the southern Wyoming and eastern Colorado plains, ripping the old snow from the rangelands and piling it into new drift on roadways just cleared by bulldozers and snowplows.

Merchant Gets Nicked For Nickel

MAYFIELD, Ky. —(UP)— Sam Hayden, 72-year-old merchant punched the nickel key on his cash register. But he might as well have run up "no sale."

Hayden made a five-cent sale at his general store yesterday. He hit the nickel key, and the cash register door flew open. Hayden tossed the coin inside.

The coin hit the trigger of a .25 caliber pistol Hayden kept in the register. The gun went off.

Hayden's condition was described as 'good" by Mayfield hospital attendants. He was shot in the stomach—all for a nickel.

Big Powers Stay Out of Defense Pact

Spain, Sweden Have Best-Equipped Armies

LONDON —(UP)— The North Atlantic pact—a military defense alliance for western Europe—will have to get along without the two best armies in western Europe, a survey disclosed today.

This survey showed that Spain and Sweden have the biggest and best equipped and trained armies on the continent west of the iron curtain.

Spain has the biggest regular army in western Europe—estimated at about 500,000 men. Total mobilization would amount to an estimated 2,000,000 men. But Spain is weak in equipment.

Sweden probably has the best-equipped army. Its regular army numbers about 20,000 men, including 19 infantry regiments of 700 men each. But total mobilization would bring about 700,000 men under arms.

Neither Spain nor Sweden will be in the North Atlantic pact. Sweden will stay out by choice, preferring to try to maintain a Scandinavian neutrality. Spain will not be invited because of continued public opinion in western Europe against the Franco regime.

But in case of another general war, there is no question about which side those two countries would be on if an east-west conflict erupted in their respective areas — that is, in Scandinavia or in the western Mediterranean.

A survey of Europe's military strength shows little except weakness at the moment. Britain is still cutting down her armed forces. Most of the other potential members of the Atlantic pact can't equip for combat the men they call up each year for training.

In event of another war, as in the last one, the United States would have to furnish the bulk of the men and equipment in the end to bring about victory.

Stores Ready For Dollar Day

A 36-page edition of The News-Journal today carries the "Dollar Day" messages of Mansfield merchants who are all set for the big sales event Friday.

More than 40 stores and business places in the city will participate in the sales, offering values in a wide variety of articles.

The weatherman promised good shopping weather. He said it will be partly cloudy and warmer.

Twenty Others Charged

Claim Czechs Backed Ring

MUNICH—(UP)—A U. S. military commission today found Frantisek Klecka guilty of espionage for Czechoslovakia after a two-day trial which was cloaked in unprecedented secrecy during the opening phase.

Klecka was convicted by an eight-man commission in the first of five spy trials, and was sentenced to 20 years at hard labor.

The commission voted by a two-thirds majority to find Klecka guilty of acts "prejudicial to the security of U. S. forces in Europe." The verdict was announced by Brig. Gen. John L. McKee, chairman of the military courts.

Klecka was the first of about 20 persons to be tried on charges of espionage for Czechoslovakia. The hearings opened in iron-clad secrecy, which was relaxed somewhat today after an inquiry ordered by Gen. Lucius D. Clay to determine whether such secrecy served security purposes.

A small man, Klecka wore U. S. army clothing for his appearance in the courtroom of the Munich military government building.

NAMES MORE

Just before the verdict in his case, the army announced the names of five defendants to face the court Monday in the second of five trials. They were Roman Knoff, Helmut Schostok and Georg Kolodzie, all Germans, and Theodore Szendielorz and Rudolph Badura, both Poles.

Klecka's trial was held in secret, but the findings and verdict were announced in open court. Klecka turned around to face correspondents standing at the rear of the courtroom and shouted in German:

"I am not guilty. I am innocent."

In tears as he was led from the courtroom, he cried:

"It is not possible that I should get 20 years for this."

Defense attorneys said they would file a petition for a review of the verdict with a U. S. Army reviewing board.

Klecka is 31. His nationality was not established publicly. He was said to be either German or Czech, or a combination.

Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U. S. deputy chief of staff in Germany, ordered McKee to release the names of the defendants. Taylor carried out the investigation of the secrecy.

However, the first and the last of the five trials were ordered closed to the public for security reasons and it was understood they still would be held behind locked doors.

OK Granted Unity Bill

COLUMBUS — (UP) — A unified conservation bill that would put the Fish and Game division on the same basis as the six other proposed sections today went before the Senate with a recommendation that it be passed.

The Senate Conservation committee voted six to nothing to recommend the bill shortly before midnight last night after Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum, D., Cleveland, won his fight to strip the present division of self-governing powers in the proposed new Department of Natural Resources.

The amendments the committee approved last night were substantially the same that were approved by the Senate on a similar bill two years ago. The unification measure, however, was not sent to the House until 10 days before the session ended and the bill died in committee.

As recommended by the Senate committee. the unified conservation bill sets up a new Department of National Resources in Ohio's government. It calls for seven divisions for lands and soils, water, forestry, wildlife, geological survey, beach erosion, and state parks.

Gym Equipment Needed

Pro Basketball Game to Aid Friendly House Fund

The Cleveland Browns' professional basketball players are coming to Mansfield March 16 to help Mansfield's Friendly House get over some of the pocketbook troubles that have plagued its building program.

The Browns, all members of the championship football team, will be brought here for a basketball game with an all-star Mansfield team, appearing under the auspices of the "Goodfellows club," a group of Mansfielders who have interested themselves in Friendly House and its problems.

With its new building scheduled to be completed within the next 90 days, Friendly House will find itself with a new building, but nothing in the way of equipment for its gymnasium, its nursery, kindergarten, game rooms and other recreational facilities for underprivileged kiddies. Mounting building costs have left no funds for equipment.

Various clubs, lodges and civic organizations have undertaken projects to help furnish the new building. The Goodfellows club has selected gymnasium furnishings as its contribution.

Who are the Goodfellows?

They are a group of men headed by T. R. Sammons and Elmer Hedeen. The group already has signed up the Cleveland Browns for the Wednesday, March 16, engagement and they have taken in Nate Wallick, the Browns' manager, as one of the Goodfellows.

Wallick has promised to bring Otto Graham, Mac Speedie, Clif Lewis, Marion Motley, Horace Gillom, Lou Rymkus, Edgar Jones, Dante Lavelli and Lou Groza to the Mansfield engagement.

The game is to be played at the Senior high gymnasium and the Goodfellows club, which already has held two meetings on its welfare project, is arranging some extra fanfare and entertainment for the evening. Details of this will be announced later.

Tickets for the game will go on sale next week and the price will be higher than that charged for ordinary basketball games. There will be a $2 charge for reserved seats on the playing floor and for the rail seats on the balcony. The rest will be sold at $1.

"We realize that the $2 reserved seat charge may be a little high for a basketball game," Hedeen said, but he added, "we believe there are enough Mansfield good fellows interested in Friendly House to fill up the reserved sections."

All of the proceeds will be turned over to the Friendly House gymnasium fund. Players, officials and others involved in promoting the game have volunteered their services. Only expense item is

Red Conspiracy In the U. S. A.

Silvermaster Quizzed, Gives Evasive Answers

By ROBERT E. STRIPLING
(Edited by Bob Considine)
19th Article in a Series

The first telegram the House un-American activities committee received, after Whittaker Chambers had testified about a pre-war communist spy ring in Washington, was sent by the most prominent man Chamber named as an accomplice.

"My attention (it read) has been called by representatives of the press to statements made about me before your committee this morning by one Whittaker Chambers.

"I do not know Mr. Chambers and insofar as I am aware have never laid eyes on him. There is no basis for the statements made about me to your committee.

"I would appreciate it if you would make this telegram a part of your committee's record, and I would further appreciate the opportunity to appear before your committee to make these statements formally and under oath. I shall be in Washington on Thursday and hope that that will be a convenient time from the committee's point of view for me to appear."

It was from Alger Hiss, brilliant young president of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace.

We received it on the night of Tuesday, Aug. 3, 1948. But inasmuch as Hiss could not appear until the fifth of the month, we heard Nathan Gregory Silvermaster in the interim. Silvermaster had been named by ex-communist Elizabeth Bentley as a member of the Russian secret police, leader of one of the spy rings working in Washington during the war, but also a $9,000-a-year government official.

Department's Market Research Division. Finally he wound up with RFC. En route he helped Assistant Secretary of Treasury Harry Dexter White draw up the Bretton Woods agreement.

His first statement on the witness stand was that Miss Bentley was a "neurotic liar." He had been harassed constantly, he said, because he was a strong advocate of the rights of the underprivileged and of all New Deal principles.

When there was an opportunity to interrupt him I asked Silvermaster if he had ever belonged to the communist party.

"I refuse to answer this question on the grounds that I have outlined in my statement.. that any answer I may make to this question may tend to be self-incriminating."

He gave the same answer to my questions as to whether he knew Earl Browder, Jacob N. Golos, Gerhart Eisler, Miss Bentley, Alger Hiss and others. He made the same reply when I asked him if he had ever had any photographic equipment in the basement of his Washington home.

Rep. Nixon (R., Calif.) asked Silvermaster to point out the discrepancies in Miss Bentley's testimony which provoked his calling her a neurotic liar. He refused.

CITE HIS RECORD

So I felt it was time to touch upon his record, not the one acquired by us but by other government agencies. To begin with, I asked him if Military Intelligence had ever objected to his employment by the Board of Economic Warfare.

"I think it was Naval Intelligence," he contradicted.

"You then went to Lauchlin Currie?" I asked, mentioning the F. D. R. aide accused by Miss Bentley as one who had supplied vital information to Russian agents.

Silvermaster readily acknowledged that he had done so and that he had also appealed to C. B. Baldwin, then his chief in the Farm Security administration and later campaign manager for Henry Wallace. His appeal, he said, went up to Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson. Patterson cleared him.

Civil Service commission reports on him stated the following:

1. — Silvermaster had been known and listed in the files of the Seattle Police department, the Thirteenth Naval district, the San Francisco Police department, the subversive unit of the American Legion at San Francisco, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation as a member and leader of the communist Party;

2.—Civil Service investigators recommended in 1942 that Silvermaster be declared ineligible for the position of head economist, Board of Economic Warfare, ".. for three years or for the duration of the emergency."

3.—The Naval Intelligence report bluntly called him a communist not to be trusted in his office.

But for four years after these serious charges had been presented, and rejected, Silvermaster held important posts in the government.

RECALL WITNESS

When Silvermaster left the stand I called back Miss Bentley.

"You came to Mr. Silvermaster's home for the purpose of collecting information?" I asked.

"That is correct."

"Which he had obtained from these people in the government?"

"That is correct, sir."

"You also obtained from him certain communist party dues?"

"That is correct."

"Could you give the committee some details regarding the photographic equipment maintained in Mr. Silvermaster's basement and whether or not Mr. Ullmann had anything to do with it?"

"Yes," she replied. "They had set up in the basement a homemade apparatus for photographic documents, for microfilming documents put together by Mr. Ullmann, who is quite clever as a mechanic. It had a rack on the top which the camera was stuck into and pointed down, and they had a rack in the bottom where the papers were put in."

"You actually saw them using this apparatus on government documents, did you?"

"Yes; I did."

Acting Chairman Mundt then asked me if I had any papers showing the references Silvermaster had presented when he obtained employment with the government.

"We have endeavored to secure his file from the archives, but it is not there," I had to answer. "It had disappeared."

I then added, "The archivist advised Mr. Wheeler, the investigator who called there, that they were the custodians of all the files of the BEW and FEA, but that Mr. Silvermaster's file was not there. The files of others in those bureaus were there, but not Mr. Silvermaster's."

The committee had gone as far as it could in the case of Silvermaster. It adjourned and prepared for one of the numberless climaxes of its life: the interrogation of Alger Hiss.

(TOMORROW: Stripling reveals that Hiss's ringing denials of Whittaker Chambers's charges nearly crushed the Hiss-Chambers duel in the bud.)

Election Quiets Council Dispute

PORTSMOUTH — (INS) — A bitter dispute over a vacant seat on the Portsmouth city council ended today with the election of Ralph C. Mohl, 45-year-old Republican wholesale meat dealer.

Elected unanimously last night by fellow — councilmen, Mohl succeeds former Mayor George L. Koerner, 63, who resigned his council post to accept a position as maintenance superintendent at Athens state hospital.

Asks More Space for Grain Crop

Brannan Tells Storage Need

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan yesterday asked Congress for authority to expand storage space for mammoth crops expected from the coming harvest.

Testifying before the Senate Agriculture committee, Brannan endorsed a bill to knock out restrictions in the Commodity Credit corporation charter which prevent the government from buying or leasing more storage space.

The restrictions were written into the charter by the Republican controlled 80th Congress. They were a major target of President Truman's election campaign in the farm belt.

"Inadequate storage" Brannan told the committee, "not only prevents farmers from obtaining the benefits of price support programs, but also leads to distress marketing and all of its harmful results.

"Adequate storage facilities go to the very heart of the (Commodity Credit) corporation's ability to successfully carry out price support operations."

The bill also would bring the commodity credit corporation more closely under the wing of the secretary. At present the corporation is run by a five man board of directors. The secretary is a board member, but he has only one vote.

Chairman Elmer Thomas, D., Okla., explained that "the theory of this bill is that the secretary is the Commodity Credit corporation and that he has a bunch of advisors of his own selection that he can use at will."

Brannan told the committee he is not seeking "additional or any extraordinary" powers but simply wants the same authority which he had before the restrictions were imposed by the last Congress.

Restrictions on storage space are estimated to have kept the government's grain storage total at about 50,000,000 bushels.

OSU Reveals Wind Tunnel Study Plan

Operation Set For Next Month

COLUMBUS — (AP) — They're building four wind tunnels at Ohio State University to broaden studies of faster-than-sound flight.

Air will be forced through the tunnels at a velocity that would make a hurricane seem like a mere puff of wind. Hurricane force is about 75 miles an hour.

The university said today one of the tunnels will start operating next month at the new laboratory. Plans for the project include basic research for the armed services.

Two of the tunnels will be rated higher than five times the speed of sound. Sound travels at 760 miles an hour at standard sea level conditions.

One tunnel, called the "blow type" type, is designed to operate at eight times the speed of sound. It is similar to one operated by the Germans during the war at the Peenemunde laboratories where the V-2 rocket was developed.

It will have nearly twice the force developed in the German tunnel.

John K. Hulbert, formerly in charge of the special developments unit, wind tunnel branch, Wright field, is project supervisor for the aerodynamic laboratory.

Miami U. Officials Consider Brickels

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Miami University has contacted Johnny Brickels, Cleveland Browns' backfield coach, in connection with the job of head basketball coach at the Oxford, O., school, it was reported here last night.

Brickels, who coached New Philadelphia to the 1940 Ohio High School championship and later was a basketball mentor at West Virginia university, was on the road with the Browns' promotional movie and could not be reached for comment.

Steve's Tops Again In Pro Yard Gaining

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) — Steve Van Buren churned gridirons for a total of 945 yards last season and for the second year in succession won the National Football league individual ground gaining championship.

The Philadelphia Eagles' ace, who climaxed the season by scoring the winning touchdown in the championship playoff against the Chicago Cardinals, finished his fifth year as a professional just 102 yards off the all-time league record.

TWO TIMES BEFORE

Ground gaining champ in 1945 and again in 1947 when he set a single season record of 1,004 yards, the former Louisiana State blocking back has a lifetime mark of 3,758 yards. The all-time career record is 3,860, set by Clark Hinkle of the Green Bay Packers in a 10-year stretch from 1932 to 1941.

Charley Trippi and Elmer Angsman of the Cardinals finished second and third respectively, with 690 and 638 yards.

These Bowlers Work Hard But Only 2nd Best

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — (AP) — A new kind of modern bowling record was entered in the books of the American Bowling Congress here late yesterday when a pair of Reading, Pa., bowlers finished their doubles event in the 46th annual ABC tournament at convention hall.

Lawrence Mouse and Luther Wildermuth have the dubious distinction of having rolled the lowest doubles score in modern ABC tournaments and the second lowest score in the 46-year history of the organization. They had a tree game aggregate total of 680.

Record books of the ABC show that only once before has a team ever rolled a lower score. A pair of Chicagoans named Garrity and Williams hit 679 at the Peoria tournament in 1915.

Cleveland Barons Defeated By Caps

The Indianapolis Caps, pacesetters in the American Hockey League's Western section, have a good opportunity to boost their lead when they play host to the last place Buffalo Bisons tonight.

The Caps beat back a challenge by the Cleveland Barons last night, 6-3, in Cleveland, to dump the Barons deeper into second place and into a tie with the Pittsburgh Hornets.

Button Favored In Ice Carnival

PARIS — (AP) — Young Dick Button of Englewood, N.J., will try to put the finishing touches on his second straight title and the ladies go through their first exercises tonight in the world figure skating championships.

Button needs only a creditable showing in the free skating maeuvers to clinch the men's crown.

Champions Forgotten In Nationals

By JOHN BARRINGTON

NEW YORK—(INS)—The forgotten men of Saturday's National AAU indoor track and field championships are the defending champions.

Newcomers — especially the potent delegation from Europe—have almost completely eclipsed the stars of last year throughout the current season.

Probably the best bet to make a successful title defense is Harrison Dillard, world's record holder in the hurdles. Even he can expect to be pushed by Penn State's Jim Gehrdes, who has bettered Dillard's fastest time of the year.

A good example of the "lost battalion" among the defending champions is. miler Tommy Quinn, who wears the New York A. C. colors. Quinn won the mile crown last year when Gil Dodds was out with an attack of mumps, but he has been consistently overshadowed this winter.

The overwhelming favorite in the mile is Willy Slykhuis of Holland, who has been unbeatable since his first two starts. He lost one of those to Don Gehrmann, the bespectacled Wisconsin U. ace, and the other to Sweden's Ingvar Bengtsson. Neither will oppose him Saturday.

However, it won't be a walkaround for Slykhuis. He'll have to twinkle to defeat John Twomey of the Illinois A. C., Villanova's Browning Ross and—oh yes, Quinn.

Bengtsson and France's Marcel Hansenne both are entered in the 1,000-yard run, which is by all odds the most congested of the track events. The complete entry list numbers 17 runners, and afternoon preliminary heats will have to be held to cull out the field.

Another crowded event is the 600-yard race. The traffic-jam there wasn't helped any when Jamaican Herb McKinley cabled that he will break off an Australian barnstorming tour to compete in the nationals.

That event, incidentally should be a corker. The large field also includes George Guida the chunky Villanova star who set a world's indoor record at 50-yards last weekend.

Gaston Reiff, the swift Belgian, will return to his "regular" distance in this meet. The Olympic 5,000-meter champion has been running a mere two miles all winter, but Saturday he and his shadow, Sweden's Eric Ahlden, are booked for the three-mile run.

Famed Trainer Of Horses Dies

ARCADIA, CALIF — (AP) — Charles E. "Boots" Durnell "won his last start."

The famed race horse trainer died yesterday of a heart attack. Only last Saturday one of his horses, Red Tape, won a race at Santa Anita.

Although nearly 75, Durnell was still active in the sport. In 1904, Durnell won the Kentucky Derby with Elwood, for which he had paid $700.

Field Wide Open For Court Meets

NEW YORK — (AP) — It's getting tougher and tougher to pick the eight-team field for the national invitation basketball tournament, says Asa Bushnell, chairman of the committee which selects the quintets.

"Right now it's a wide open affair," said Bushnell whose regular job is that of commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic conference.

Steel Firms Continue High Output

Production Hits 5th 100% Week

NEW YORK —(INS) — Steel operations continue at a record-breaking pace, with the industry operating at 100 per cent of rated capacity, or more, for the fifth consecutive week.

This was reported today by the magazine Iron Age, which pointed out that this marked the fifth consecutive week that steel output has been at an annual rate of more than 97 million tons.

It observed that operations for the month of January were at an all-time high, with more than eight million tons of ingots and steel for castings produced in that period.

At the same time, the national metalworking weekly cautioned that as long as the industry continues this tremendous production pace, it is moving the market factors of supply and demand nearer to the point of balance.

Iron Age listed results of the present high level of operations to date as follows:

1. Almost complete reduction of the potency of the gray market.

2. Consumers' cancellations and growing hesitancy to extend conversion deals.

3. Cancellations by some lines of consumers of existing regular mill orders.

4. Increased offerings of bonus tonnages by mills because of spot cancellations.

Claim Cafe Owner Bought 'Hot Ham'

LANCASTER — (INS) — John L. Johnson, Lancaster restaurant owner and president of the chamber of commerce, stood accused today by two men under indictment in the "hot ham" case of buying stolen meat.

David Halderman and Joseph Burke, charged with receiving meat taken illegally from the Swift and company packing plant in Columbus, testified at Johnson's trial that Johnson bought meat from them, accepting the explanation that they "got it from a truck driver."

WIND DAMAGE—Blueball grade school near Middletown was hit by near-tornado winds Tuesday. Sections of the roof and coping of the school are shown scattered about the highway which runs past the building.

Mansfielders Buy Awning Firm Stock

Hugh Clark jr., and Miss Bernice Osborn, manager and assistant manager respectively of the local branch of the Wagner Awning and Manufacturing company have become part owners in the company.

They are two of the approximately 100 workers in the world's largest industrial canvas business who bought all the firm's common stock from its retiring president C. R. Foward.

Industrialists Claim FEPC Bill Would Hurt Minority Groups

10 Testify ... Measure At Hearing

Claim Problem Lies With Public

Two industrial representatives from the Mansfield area were among the 10 industrialists who told an Ohio House Labor committee last night that FEPC laws would hinder rather than help minority groups in Ohio, Associated Press reports.

Harold W. Arlin of the Westinghouse plant and Joseph F. McClure of the Ashland Chamber of Commerce delivered statements during the hearing.

"This is beating industry over the head to remove a psychological problem that lies within the public," said James O. Seymour of Columbus. He is associate counsel for the Ohio Manufacturers association.

The proposed FEPC law would make it an unfair labor practice to discriminate against anyone because of race, color, creed, national origin or ancestry. This would include hiring and firing.

An FEPC commission would hear complaints and impose fines and imprisonment for violations.

A score of church and labor union leaders urged enactment of the proposal at a crowded hearing Tuesday night. A similar crowd was on hand when opponents spoke. Another hearing was scheduled next Tuesday.

"The trend has been to shift social problems to industry," Seymour told the committee. Asserting it was not an industrial problem. he said:

"People should not shift their individual problems to the shoulders of industry."

Other speakers were: Ray M. Suter of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce; Evans F. Stearns of the Stearns and Foster company, Cincinnati; C. B. Alexander, representing Alliance Manufacturers; E. Oscar Kuendig of the Canton Development corporation; P. W. Casper of the F. H. Lawson company, Cincinnati; William A. Stark of the Third Fifth Union Trust company, Cincinnati: Howard W. Laymon of the Chillicothe Chamber of Commerce; Max D. Gustin of Cleveland, representing small business. and George B. Hammond of the Ohio Retail Merchants council.

Stearns said 169 of his mattress firm's 774 employes were Negroes. They get the same rate of pay as white workers and some receive more money, he reported.

"We feel trying to force through a law will set the race back in our community," Stearns said.

Arlin asserted the proposed laws would "restrict good relations" in his plant. "To force the hiring of minority groups for specific jobs would create class differences rather than harmony," he declared.

Kuendig said: "I'm convinced that unless neighboring states have the same laws as you are proposing, industry will steer clear of Ohio and the growth of our cities will be retarded."

Price of Meats Continues To Drop Despite Losses

(By Associated Press)

The price of beef cuts declined 2 to 10 cents a pound in many cities across the nation this week. But most other retail food prices were unchanged, or showed small, irregular changes reflecting local market conditions.

Typical of the downtrend in beef cuts were reductions in sirloin steak prices. A survey of supermarkets in key cities showed sirloin down about 6 cents a pound to 63 cents in Detroit, down 4 cents in Chicago, Jacksonville, Fla., Boston and New York where the price varied from 59 to 75 cents, and down 2 cents in Washington, D. C. At Los Angeles, sirloin was unchanged from last week at about 59 cents a pound.

One chain with 140 stores in lower New York state and Connecticut cut rib roasts 12 cents a pound and sirloin and porterhouse steaks 10 cents.

Grade A eggs were 2 to 4 cents lower in several cities, but trade sources said a somewhat firmer wholesale market in the past few days probably would lead to a mild retail upswing later this week.

Meat buyers predicted that prices for all meat except pork would increase moderately during the next few weeks, noting that supplies are somewhat smaller than in early 1948. However, the Agriculture department said by early spring meat output was expected to exceed last year.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimated that heavy snows in South Dakota, Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado alone killed 81,000 cattle and 97,000 sheep and lambs up to Feb. 1. Livestock men said the final report of losses could be expected to run considerably higher, since some of the heaviest storms came this month and also involved other western states. Concern also was expressed over weakened conditions of breeding stock. Below-average crops of both calves and lambs are anticipated.

The BAE's food situation report foresaw somewhat lower average prices for food this year, but added that no sharp decline was expected since no major change in the supply situation or the factors affecting the general level of purchasing power were in prospect.

Labor Secretary Tobin told the joint Congressional Economic committee that the monthly consumer price index of the Bureau of Labor statistics, due next week, would show further food price declines during January. The food downtrend in the past six months accounted for the 2 per cent drop in the cost of living index between August and December, he said, and would be "an important factor" in wage negotiations this year.

Three large candy manufacturers this week reduced the price of their largest-selling chocolate bars to wholesale jobbers. The reduction of 6 to 8 per cent, however, would not affect the retail store price the consumer pays, said trade spokesmen.

The price cuts were attributed chiefly to the lower price of coca, which has dropped from a high of 53 cents a pound in 1947 to around 19 cents.

Suits For $54,000 Are Settled

Accord Reached Out of Court

Two actions for $54,215 filed by Howard Butler, of Perrysville, alleging he suffered injuries when he was struck by a laundry truck driven by James Hazlett, of Lincoln Heights, have been settled out of court, common Pleas court, journal entries showed today.

The truck was owned by the C. B. Myers of Ashland. Hazlett was named in one suit and Myers in the other. The court had stricken from the record the petition filed against Myers.

Butler alleged he was injured when he was hit by the truck while crossing Park avenue east near North Foster street, on the night of Jan. 8, 1946.

In other actions:

The court quieted title to lot 2997 in an action brought by Charles and Orlena Mary Schoenman against the unknown heirs and devisees of Susanna Goettle, deceased.

In a similar action, the court quieted the title to three properties, comprising 5.5 acres owned by James and Virginia Constance, 5.65 acres of Paul and Thelma Stahl, and 116 acres of Bertha E. Landis and Gladys O. Brightbill. All the properties are in Springfield township.

The court rendered a judgment of $650 in favor of Monarch Construction company against Myrtle Snyder, of 26 Hoffer avenue, on a cognovit note dated Feb. 11, 1949.

In a similar case, the court rendered a judgment for $1,630 in favor of Mr. and Mrs. John Gretten, 528 Cherry street, against Barbara M. Hallinger, Butler, on a cognovit note dated Jan. 15, 1941.

Trustees of the Mansfield Seventh Day Adventist church filed a petition seeking authorization to borrow $8,500 and mortgage its property on Cline avenue near Lexington avenue, to complete construction of the parsonage. The money would be borrowed from the Mechanics Building and Loan company, the petition said.

Players' Group Honors Go To Jean Sauter, Helen Bacon

Mrs. Jean Sauter's Irish brogue characterization of the junk yard owner, Mrs. Feeley, won her top billing as the best liked actress of the Mansfield Community Players' "Suds In Your Eye", produced last week.

The announcement was made last night at a meeting of the Players' board of governors following a count of the ballots cast by the audience at the show. Mrs. Sauter, one of Mansfield's few women attorneys is the wife of Mansfield attorney, George V. Sauter.

Balloting also showed that Miss Joan Kullman whose comical handling of the prim role of Miss Tinkham won a close second on the "best actor" count.

By virtue of her success, Mrs. Sauter will compete with Mrs. Corinne Schettler, winner of the "best actress' award for "Suspect", for the Helen Bacon trophy to be awarded to the "best actor of the year" at the close of the Players' season.

Mrs. Bacon, who gave the trophy to the Players last fall, was given a life membership in the Players last night by unanimous vote of the board. Mrs. Bacon, first local director of the Players, guided the activities of the amateur group for more than 20 years. Her most recent directing work was "The Return of Peter Grimm" produced by the players last spring.

E. D. Gibson, president of the Players' board, also announced last night that active membership cards in the Players will be issued within the next six weeks to all persons who have participated in any phase of Community Players since the reorganization of the group in September, 1947.

Other business of the meeting included tentative plans for the summer theater of the Players, including use of the arena-style staging. In arena staging, the audience completely surrounds the players who perform the play with as few stage pieces as necessary to carry out the action of the play.

Employes Share Stock

W. J. Toole, manager of the Mansfield Sears, Roebuck and company store, announced today that 92 store employes have to their credit from 1948 profits 2,815 shares of Sears stock and a cash balance of $28,900 by way of their membership in a profit sharing plan.

Members of an employe fund, Toole explained, deposit five per cent of their salaries into their individual accounts each year and the company places in the fund an established percentage of its profits. This sum is credited to the employe members on a length of service basis.

Toole will have been with the Sears organization 20 years on February 18.

Start Manhunt For 4 Bandits

COLUMBUS — (INS) — A state-wide manhunt continued today for three daylight bandits who held up the Hub Federal Savings and Loan association in Columbus yesterday, escaping in a traditional black sedan with about $7350.

The three unmasked, well-dressed men took only minutes to clean out cash drawers and herd the president, three women clerks and a customer in a vault.

Police linked the trio with four men who last week robbed the Personal Finance company of several hundred dollars. They said the prohibition-style robbery was similar.

Public School Needs Increasing

FORESIGHT is being shown by Mansfield public school officials in securing suitable sites for grade school buildings as a part of the general plan that is designed to meet immediate needs and also to care for the anticipated increase in attendance within the next few years. Announced purchase of the Hartman property, corner Marion avenue and Carpenter road, is another forward-looking step.

Ten years is a short time to look ahead in a school-building program and it is interesting to note that the United States census bureau estimates that by 1958 there will be ten million more children of school age in the United States than at present, with Mansfield, of course, having its share of this increase.

Universal education has long been taken for granted in this country, but often without realization of its cost in physical facilities and in payment of teachers and other school personnel.

While prosperous states and communities may be well able to finance the construction and maintenance of schools, there are some areas in which this is impossible, and it is in such instances that some federal aid appears inescapable, as education is a national problem.

With more children attending schools there will be need for additional teachers and some way must be found to make the teaching profession more attractive to competent young persons.

First obligation for maintenance of adequate public school facilities rests upon each community, and taxpayers in the Mansfield school district have repeatedly shown willingness to meet the cost of providing and maintaining good schools here. It is asked only that educational funds be intelligently and economically expended, and confidence is felt that this is being done.

Radar May Warn, But Not Protect

THE ELABORATE war-time system to watch for and track the flight of aircraft is called to mind by the request of the Air Force for authority and funds to develop a protective fence of radar detection devices around the country. The idea is that an actually existing radar system should be developed to the point where it would be capable of watching the air approaches to all strategic areas in the event of a war.

Air Force officials themselves warn, however, that the requested system would have weaknesses. Its greatest range would be 300 miles. In the case of bombing planes of such speed as the new XB-47, that would mean hostile craft would be only half an hour away when first detected.

It would be of no value in warning of the approach of guided missiles of certain types. These comments seem to indicate that the best radar detection system which could be built could not be regarded as a permanent safeguard against attack by air.

There is in fact no kind of physical defense, whether of warning systems or weapons or fortifications, which can give permanent assurance of safety. That assurance can be achieved only by making the conditions of peace in the world so secure that war would become impossible. That is a high mark, but it should be aimed toward.

Read This Before You Smoke In Bed

SMOKING IN BED is one of the more prolific causes of fire—particularly fire which results in serious personal injury and loss of life. Those who have the habit would do well to read a list of "Instructions to Guests Preparing to Smoke In Bed" which has been posted in the rooms of a New York hotel. It says:

"1. Call the office and notify the management where you wish your remains sent.

"2. Notify guests in adjoining rooms of your intention of endangering their lives, so that they may take necessary precautions to protect themselves.

"3. Go to the corridor and locate the nearest fire escape, so that if you are fortunate enough to escape your room, you may reach safety.

"4. Now sit down and think how foolish it is for you to take this risk—you may enjoy your smoke while thinking it over.

"Business may be good, but we do not have guests to burn, so please—Help Us to Protect You."

Those words cover a lethally serious problem. And what is true of hotels is equally true of the home. Remember these rules next time you feel like smoking in bed.

To Try Proportional Representation

SOMETHING novel is planned by the West German Parliamentary Assembly, which is drawing up a constitution for its portion of Germany. This is a house of representatives, half of whose members are to be elected in single districts by majority vote, and half in larger areas by proportional representation

Proportional representation has made far more headway in Europe than in the United States It has been used in electing members of parliament in France and Germany, as well as in some lesser countries In the United States its use is confined to the election of councils in some cities that drew up their own charters

New York City had it for a time, but it was voted out, partly through political opposition, partly through a fear that it permitted the election of communists. Cincinnati is the largest community to employ the system now, there it has given quite general satisfaction.

Passing around is a clipping from the Vineland (N J.) Rotary club bulletin: "We had H K listed as absent last week. He was present and we're sorry."

Claude Callan wonders: "Why can't the man who comes to collect be as nice and pleasant as the one who comes to make the sale?"

What Some Other People Are Saying

SENATOR RALPH E. FLANDERS (R-Vt): "The business man becomes the lemon in the squeezer. The union demands an increase in wages, and after it is given the government then decides whether the business man can raise prices."

* * *

SENATOR BRIAN M'MAHON (D-Conn): "So long as the iron curtain exists and so long as the atomic armaments race continues, our hopes for peace are a complete mockery."

* * *

WILLIAM GREEN, president of the AFL: "Unions are morally responsible for contracts. It would be a great wrong to place the right to sue in the hands of the employers who have it in their power to create contract violations to break unions."

Those Scary Spy Stories

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — We all know that all nations have spies, international relations still being on the cops-and-robber level.

We all know that spies use dupes in the nations where they operate. We all know, too, that real spy stories are stranger and more fascinating than fiction, even though there are revelations close enough to reality to satisfy most anybody in such works as Bruce Lockhart's "British Agent" and "Ashenden" by Somerset Maughan, the British playwright and novelist who was a secret agent in the First World war.

Our own agents don't seem to go in much for literature, which may be just as well.

All of our established notions from fact and fiction are nicely satisfied in the latest spy revelations, the elaborate report released by the war department on the Soviet spy ring in Japan whose operations were discovered and stopped by the Japanese government in 1941, but not before the ring had advised Russia of the attack by Germany, and very lucky at that, as it turned out for all of us later. The report was prepared over a year ago by Army intelligence officers in Japan.

Even more intriguing than the story itself, which goes far back for many years, is why it was released at this particular time.

Maybe it would be a sound idea for Congress to look into this, for there's too much evidence already that the military is throwing its weight around too much in the midst of ticklish international developments.

One explanation came from General Charles A. Willoughby, chief of General Douglas MacArthur's intelligence section in Japan, who said he believed it was timed for its "educational value" for the American people.

Civilians are inclined to be suspicious of "education" by the Army in times of peace—or maybe this isn't peace. If it isn't, somebody should be frank enough to tell us.

* * *

What Are Purposes?

INTERNAL evidence in the way the document is written and its emphasis indicates to a lay reader of many such documents that it is designed, (1) to frighten us in this country still further against Russia and stir up all sorts of suspicions among us against individuals and groups, and (2) to uphold Army views about policy in China and discredit writers or anybody else who holds different views.

It may have a third purpose, which can be suggested by recalling that very often about this time of year when Army appropriations are before Congress, some sort of scare or another is raised. It's an old trick, but trying on the nerves.

At the outset of the report, addressed to our citizens, is this: "Though the work of Dr. Richard Sorge (head of the spy ring) and his companions belongs to history, the lessons of that work should serve as a clear warning for today and the future. They concern not just the intelligence officer but every good citizen. Some of their implications are frightening.

"One begins to wonder whom one can trust, what innocent comrade or loyal friend may suddenly be discovered as the enemy. He may have any face."

Your neighbor, for instance. That is frighteningly clever in itself. The report is saying, in effect, that good citizens had better be suspicious of each other.

That smacks of the spying upon neighbors and the encouragement of people to report on their neigmbors in nazi Germany.

We don't need any "thought police" here.

And as for real spies, we'd like to think we could depend on the military intelligence services and the FBI. That's their business. They can go about it quietly and efficiently and without stirring up suspicion and dissension among our own people, which weakens us rather than strengthens us.

Frankly Speaking

Racket That Flopped

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—Some character in Paris with "dirty" books got a bright idea for making money fast and easy from a bunch of Americans he must have figured were chumps.

He got their names and addresses from an American directory and sent them letters creeping with sex, telling them if they put the price in a New York bank to his credit they'd get the books.

And he picked some lulus—the presidents of banks and universities, and federal judges—and they turned the letter over to James J. Doran, chief inspector, which means detective, for the U.S. post office department.

Nobody got the books because Dolan stepped in and told the bank not to accept any American money for the Parisian character's account, so he's probably busy in his attic now, thumbing through an English directory, picking out dukes to do a little business with.

Nailing this project was a pretty soft touch for Doran and the 315 inspectors under him because they have a pretty busy time, as this will show, running down not only the screwballs who send obscene mail but the lightfingered tribe who steal letters and stamps and rob the mails of things like money and checks which they can cash.

Every year about 4,200 people are convicted of doing the things mentioned above, but almost all of them are nailed for theft and not for sending obscene stuff like books, or pictures or letters to women.

* * *

Heavy Penalties.

THE PENALTY for obscene mailing is up to five years in jail on each count, and a $1,000 fine Last year 194 people were arrested for this, and 153 of them were convicted.

Doran and his crew keep a check on their own people, too, for the post office department, the biggest employer in the government, has 500,000 people working for it.

And every year about 400 postal employes—a fraction of one per cent of the total number—get nabbed for stealing on the job.

In every big postoffice in the country there's a "looking gallery" where, without being seen themselves, Doran's detectives can watch the mail clerks at work, although Doran says they do this only when they're actually making an investigation.

But it's the crooked outsiders who give the inspectors the toughest time and one of the sweetest tricks ever invented by a thief is stealing checks from the mail and cashing them.

Doran, a thin man with long experience, says he had been after one mail thief for years and his men finally got him in Cleveland.

This one, Doran says, admitted he had been making about $10,000 a year for years, stealing letters, taking checks out of them, and then cashing them.

He didn't stay long in one place, but headed for California in the summer, moved across the southwest in the autumn, and wintered in Florida paying his way as he went by stealing mailed checks.

Another neat stunt, Doran says, is stealing department store bills from the mail. The crook who does this takes the bill right down to a department store, and works it like this:

Say the bill is for $85. The crook produces a check, made out to him (he made it out to himself before he got to the store) for $150.

The department store loves him in a hurry for paying his bill so fast, and cashes his check, deducting $85 for the bill, and giving him $65 in cash which he earned by passing the phony check.

Norway Asks Assurance of Speedy Help

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It was kept very hush-hush, but Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange had a very significant secret luncheon with a group of congressional leaders in House Speaker Sam Rayburn's office just before he returned to Oslo.

At the luncheon, the Norwegian diplomat shrewdly let his hair down to tell American congressional leaders his nation's troubles resulting from the willingness to join the dynamite-laden Atlantic Defense Pact. Norway has been under terrific pressure from the Russians not to join with the Western powers in a mutual-defense agreement.

Lange told the congressmen who met with him that Norway was not worried about whether or not to throw in its lot with the West. Rather, Lange said, the thing that concerned the Norwegians, as well as the Danes, was what would happen in the event Russia began massing troops near the Norwegian border during the period while Congress debated and before American aid became effective. Lange showed a brilliant knowledge of the American legislative process.

He estimated it might be five months before American aid reached Norway in quantity. It was this lag, the foreign minister said, that was causing the Norwegians so much concern.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Majority Leader John McCormack of Massachusetts both expressed the conviction that America would back Norway to the hilt. But both also warned him that the American legislative processes would have to be followed before the aid could be sent. They assured him, however, that if the Russians began threatening Norway, Congress would only act more swiftly.

Upshot of the luncheon, which was also attended by Appropriations Committee Chairman Clarence Cannon of Missouri, Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Sol Bloom of New York, Senator Magnuson and Congressman Mitchell, both of Washington, was that Lange's determination to stick with the West was stiffened.

Truman Asks Autograph.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN is still getting a kick out of the mistake the pollsters, predicters and the newspapers made in the last election. He particularly enjoyed the recent book by Morris Ernst —"The People Know Best"— which dissects the mistakes of the press in the late campaign.

"If you hadn't written this book, I'd have written it myself," Truman told Ernst, when the latter called at the White House the other day. "It just had to be done."

Truman indicated he had read every word of the book and thoroughly enjoyed the way the press and the predicters were taken apart.

"Herbert Hoover," remarked Truman, "told me he had handed out autographs all his life but never asked for one. But I'm one President who is going to ask for an autograph. I want yours."

Truman handed a copy of Ernst's book back to him while Ernst inscribed it.

Hint Got Franco Loan.

HERE is the inside story on why Franco Spain after so many years in the state department's doghouse has now been able to get a $25,000,000 loan from the Chase National Bank.

The man behind this loan is Paul Culbertson, American charge d'affaires in Madrid. He succeeded in convincing the state department that it is absolutely essential to give Franco some kind of economic help or else he will refuse to cooperate in the Allied plans for defending Western Europe.

Culbertson sent scores of telegrams warning that Franco was heading for serious trouble unless he got dollars somewhere to buy American machinery and equipment needed to keep his factories running.

The problem stumped the state department for a while, because it could not risk giving Spain an American government loan without arousing a loud protest from many Americans who consider Franco very much a dictator.

Finally it was decided to pass the word quietly to the Chase National Bank that it was all right to give Franco a loan. Chase National jumped at the chance, because it's a good business deal that may lead to more loans of this kind.

The state department, meanwhile, is sitting back to watch how Franco spends this first loan so it can decide whether to open up the U. S. Export-Import Bank to him for further help Needless to say, Paul Culbertson is now aces high with Dictator Franco for making all this possible.

Biggies In Washington.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has been holding some highly important off-the-record meetings with business leaders because of his concern about a possible depression. The second meeting took place at Blair House secretly last Thursday and those present included Ward Canaday, head of the Willys-Overland motorcar company; Frank Baer, vice-president of the Bank of America; Joe Love, president of Burlington Mills, and Vice-President Alben Barkley.

Henry Ford II was invited but was prevented from coming, by bad flying weather.

Grave concern was expressed over federal reserve board limitations on installment buying, which, it was said, were threatening increased unemployment.

The industrialists told the President and Barkley that the one element blocking continued production is the federal reserve board's limit on installment buying.

Canaday of Willys and Baer of the Bank of America pointed out that drastic cutbacks in auto production would mean a real softening of the entire steel market, including the shutdown of some marginal mills.

Truman and Barkley seemed impressed by what they heard, promised to take the regulation up with Federal Reserve Board Chairman Thomas B. McCabe.

Assignment: America

You'll See 'Em In Miami

By INEZ ROBB

MIAMI BEACH — Gangsters, gamblers and horse players are not the only high class citizens who take it on the lam down here.

This is veritably the cross roads of the Western Hemisphere as well as the home away from home of every politician south of the border taking it on the lam from the ever-loving voters or the military juntas back home.

Scarcely a day passes that the former president of some South American republic doesn't arrive here, furtively looking over his shoulder to see if those people with machetes are still on his trail.

There are now four former presidents of Venezuela seeking surcease in this area from political cares back home. This ordinarily would constitute a quorum or at least a good bridge hand.

However, Eleazar Lopez Contreras and Isais Medina Angarita, who were the first two to scram in somewhat unseemly haste, do not speak to the last two presidential arrivals, Romulo Betancourt and Romulo Gallegos.

Contreras and Angarita belong to one political faction and Beatancourt and Gallegos to another, and never the twain shall meet in exile even for a drink and a good cry over the hardships of life in Miami Beach.

Maximiliano Hernandez Martinez, former president of Salvador, is also sitting out a spell of exile here. Senor Hernandez Martinez, to put it roughly, was tossed out on his ear by his fellow citizens on May 8th, 1944, and had the good sense to head for Florida.

* * *

Short Trip From Cuba.

CUBAN politicians really pioneered the Miami Beach area as refuge for officials out of favor with the home-town electorate. As the boiling point of Cuban voters is notoriously low, politicians always have found it advisable to have a plane or boat handy in case of emergency.

Gen. Fulgencio Batista, former president of Cuba, spent several pleasant years in exile hered uring the presidency of Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin who, in turn, was an exile in Miami Beach during Batista's incumbency. (Turn about being fair play, or something.)

When Carlos Prio Socarras, current president of Cuba, succeeded Dr. Grau in the office at the last election, Batista—despite his exile—was elected to the Cuban senate.

Thus Batista has gone home to Havana. But Miami Beach is on the alert to welcome Dr. Grau back at any moment.

But Miamians, hep to the undercurrent of Latin American affairs, feel that Dr. Grau, in the interests of his health, is apt to land on this hospitable shore at any moment.

North American politicians also find this climate most salubrious. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, federal works administrator, came down here some days ago to announce, in his shirt sleeves, that $500,000 in relief had been appropriated for the nation's snow-bound areas.

Mayor Frank Hague, the boss of Jersey City, has been resting in the sun as has Maurice Tobin, secretary of labor. Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson has been here twice this season. Gov. Hu'mon Talmadge of Georgia was here earlier in the winter.

President Harry S. Truman passes over or around Miami Beach from time to time en route to Key West for a breathing spell. He is expected this way again early in March.

As Others See It

Merely a Suggestion.

An Ohio legislator urges that laws be written in simple, everyday English. And, for even greater clarity, the loopholes might be printed in red.—Kansas City Star.

ODD FACT

It's said that the Mississippi river actually flows uphill, as its mouth is farther from the center of the earh than is its source.

Farmer's Diary

It's Hard to Understand

By CALVIN A. BYERS

"The worst of ills, and hardest to endure,
Past hope, past cure,
Is Penury this truth the sage of Sparta told
Aristodemus old—
"Wealth makes the man." On him that's poor Proud Worth looks down, and Honor shuts the door."

* * *

I GUESS the only time I have envied another columnist was when Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt wrote "I paid all my bills today." Being poor doesn't bother me often. I can park my Ford V-8 without envy or apology beside any man's station wagon or shiny limousine.

I can live on a farm and enjoy it, and gleefully see my ground-squirrels and foxes and earthworms romp into print in the city newspapers to entertain nostalgic farm-born tycoons and day-laborers in factories who make more money than I do.

After years of maintaining a big family on hope and a school teacher's salary, a man becomes somewhat adept at juggling the ends that never meet —robbing Peter to pay Paul, and trusting the Lord for the rest.

But there are lots of things I never can understand. One of them is why nurses and schoolteachers must be forced to fight —or quit—for economic standards high enough to make themselves comfortable.

It seems to be taken for granted that nurses and teachers do better if underpaid, just as poets must live in garrets! Of all the guff!

Miss Ella Best, who is executive secretary of the American Nurses Association writes me that there is to be a conference at the Shoreland hotel in Chicago, Feb. 14 to 17, to help solve the nursing shortage by raising economic status of both private duty and general duty nurses to a level commensurate with their professional standing."

"Nurses," says Miss Best, "have no effective economic or social weapons to bring about their just demands. Moved by a tradition of service to humanity, the nurse has voluntarily surrendered the right to strike and many other forms of social, economic or legal compulsion."

* * *

SEEMS to me we ought to pay nurses as well as barbers or beauty shop operators are paid. My hat is off to the women in white!

But if any teachers think of taking up column writing as a paying recreation, my advice is, try some other form of gambling

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

WALLACE shouldn't feel too badly if his budget isn't adopted. Truman's doesn't stand much chance either.

* * *

But it was sporting of Henry to give us his opinion after the one we gave him in November And it must be said for Henry that he accomplished in 18 pages what it took Harry 1429 pages to do confuse us.

* * *

But these are confusing times. New York housemaids are protesting a bill to fingerprint them They feel their job is removing prints not leaving them.

* * *

If the bill passes, housework-ers will be expected to provide references from their last employer and a soup plate containing an inside print.

* * *

The American Labor party is protesting the bill also the communist trial, the governor's budget, military training and the unseasonable weather.

As Cerf Tells It

An old butler of Dr. Ted Saunders came back for a professional consultation after a lapse of several years.

"Well, Tom, it's good to see you," said Dr. Saunders. "How are those kidneys of yours holding up?"

'Fine, Doctor, jest fine," answered the old butler. "They's all grown up now, and two of 'em is married."

A few years ago, in the "pre-refrigerator days," fish were often "salted down" to preserve them. This practice isn't necessary now but salt fish are still popular on American tables.

Codfish is at the top of the list of salt fish favorites. An especially good way of serving these tasty flakes is as codfish cakes, sauteed in hot fat until they are crispy and brown. Top them with a delicious cheese-olive sauce. It's made with both milk and cheese—a good protein addition to any meal. The tangy cheese accented with olive is a perfect complement to the mild codfish flavor.

Codfish cakes will fit into either lunch or dinner plans. For lunch just add a green vegetable, like asparagus, raw vegetable relishes, bread and butter, milk and fruit. Here's the recipe:

Codfish Cakes.

2 cups flaked, cooked codfish
4 cups mashed, cooked potatoes
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon finely minced onion
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
Few grains cayenne
2 cups milk
1 cup grated American cheese
1-3 cup sliced, stuffed olives

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Shape into round, flat cakes and saute in hot fat until golden brown. Serve with cheese-olive sauce. Serves 6.

Cheese-Olive Sauce

3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons minced onion
½ cup minced celery

Melt butter, add onion and celery and cook over low heat until tender, about 5 minutes. Add flour and seasonings and blend. Gradually add milk, while stirring, and cook until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Add cheese and stir until melted. Fold in sliced olives. Serve with codfish cakes. Serves 6.

Family Dinner Held By Class

The Amoma class of the St. Matthew Lutheran church met with their families for a family dinner at the church Tuesday evening.

Forty-five members were present. In charge of arrangements was Mrs. Robert Flood and her committee, Mrs. Carlton Overmeyer, Mrs. Merle Pittinger and Mrs. Tom Schwartzkof. Table decorations and the program were arranged by Mrs. Lee Garber and Mrs. Floyd Dent. Decorations were in Washington's birthday theme.

A short business meeting was conducted by the club's president, Mrs. Clyde Bonham. The rest of the evening was given to contests.

The next regular meeting will be held March 15.

Service Club Entertains

GALION — Another service club to hold a Valentine party for the ladies was the Galion Lions' club. The party was a "hobo" dinner party at the Roxy Inn, Crestline. Covers were laid for 55 members and guests.

Horoscope

For Friday, February 18
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

AN exceptionally lively and progressive day is forecast from an interesting array of conflicting planetary aspects. While new projects and objectives are under a spurt of energetic attack, concentrated and well organized ways and means, and tried-out systems, indicating far-reaching crises; yet a blunder in judgment, a tricky situation, or a personal influence, from secret, curious or conniving quarters, may have power to upset best calculated plans The element of the idealistic, romantic or emotional may be a factor in final issues of the day. Give heed to high ideals or inner drives.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a period of the unusual, dramatic and peculiar in which sound efforts, practical plans and objectives may be arrested in progressive development Intervention of the personal, romantic or unrealistic may suddenly arrest progress, interrupt plans or generally complicate all sordid or productive objectives Allure, fancy, intuition or inner urges seem to intervene, switching the energies and ambitions into radically different grooves Thrilling and dynamic factors may change programs

A child born on this day, while practical, energetic, staunch and progressive, also has romantic, idealistic and unrealistic urges to give vague and intangible denouement ot its efforts

FRAN WARREN, one of the newest beauties to charm with her vocal prowess, believes "the body, like the voice, must be used properly and daily" She created her own exercises, does them with a turkish towel, right after the bath when possible Miss Warren advises these exercises regularly for best results They are "stretch and pull" exercises designed to whittle hips, thighs, buttocks and help keep bosom firm The 20-year-old vocalist will emerge the season's top songstress, according to the experts

PERKER-UPPER FOR POTATO SALAD. For a new taste treat, add a small portion of finely chopped red Winesap apples to your potato salad The Winesaps grown in Washington State have a delicious spicy flavor which combines especially well with potatoes.

U. S. Needs Buffer Belt In Europe

Strong Germany A Major Problem

The question raised last week as a result of the visit to Washington of the Norwegian foreign minister was whether we preferred a united but independent Scandinavia to a divided Scandinavia — with Norway joined to Britain and the United States while Sweden was isolated and Finland was sacrificed.

The question is of the greatest importance. It involves not only the position of three, indeed four, truly democratic nations but also the critical problem of our diplomatic strategy in the cold war.

For the line of policy, which led up to the Scandinavian crisis, will — if it is not changed — almost certainly increase enormously the costs and the risks of our whole action in Europe.

The crucial question is whether the Atlantic pact, at present confined to Western Europe and North America, is to be extended to include the nations adjacent the Soviet orbit. They are the three Scandinavian countries, Germany, Austria, Italy. There are, I believe, the strongest reasons for thinking that our own vital interests, the security of Europe, and the chance of an honorable and peaceable settlement will be jeopardized if we do include this intervening belt of countries in our military coalition.

For to extend the pact in this fashion is to make it at once weaker and more provocative It would add to our liabilities in an area where we acquired no additional assets. We shall be far better served, it seems to be, by a policy of understanding and friendliness toward a united and independent Scandinavia, a neutralized Germany, a neutralized Austria, and an unpretentious and quiet Italy.

The case for recognizing and promoting such a buffer belt between the Soviets and the West rests on many considerations. One of the most compelling is that it can enable nations now within the Soviet orbit to detach themselves without running the additional risk of aligning themselves against the Soviet Union. There is, for example, Tito in Yugoslavia. It would be asking too much to wish him to switch alliances at this time, separating himself from Russia and joining up with us. Nor should we at this time wish to have him do that, and thus to have power politics make a cynical mockery of the whole ideological conflict.

But what we have a right to hope for and good reason to want is that Tito, as he ceases to be a satellite of Moscow, should withdraw into an independent position. That will be easier if on three of his frontiers — the Austrian, the Italian, and eventually the Greek—he has neighbors who, though determined to defend their independence and assured of support if they are attacked, are nevertheless not active members of a great military coalition.

Since our real purpose in Europe is not to create a satellite system of our own but to dissolve the Soviet satellite system, there are immense diplomatic and moral advantages to be had by making it respectable for nations to become part of the buffer belt. For then the satellites have some place to go as they detach themselves.

Without that, countries like Yugoslavia, Finland, Austria some day Czechoslovakia and Poland, have no place to go when they separate themselves from Russia.

But, of course, the paramount reason for the buffer belt is that it provides a place for Germany. No one can seriously believe, it seems to me, that the present partition of Germany can last very long without precipitating violence—probably in the form of a German civil war that would tend to become a European civil and international war. It is essential, therefore, that we should have a clear idea of the place which we wish Germany to have in Europe.

However we conceive it, say as German participation in a general European commonwealth, one thing is certain: if Germany, or any large part of it, is revived now as a military state, it will dominate the Western union in that it will hold the balance of power.

It will be stronger than France and Benelux, and therefore able to precipitate war against Russia or to make a deal with Russia.

There is, therefore, no tolerable line of policy for Germany except that agreed on during the war: that Germany shall be for this generation a neutralized and demilitarized nation. The solution, and there is no other, is possible only if Germany is not morally and politically isolated.

New Social Security Plan Being Drafted For Nation

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Administration experts are drafting a broad new social security program under which needy persons of all ages would be eligible for federal financial help, it was learned today.

The administration's recommendations are to be presented to Congress on Feb 28 when the House Ways and Means committee starts hearings on all phases of the social security program.

At present, the federal government pays a portion of the cost of relief for the needy aged—65 or over—the blind, and dependent children. But it makes no contribution toward the cost of general relief.

Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing gave a hint of administration plans earlier this week when he told the joint congressional economic committee:

"Public assistance should be available to persons who are destitute no matter what the cause of their destitution, rather than to those who are needy because they are aged, blind or dependent children."

Ewing said, furthermore, that public assistance should be adjusted to the economic needs of the various states. In other words, a state with relatively low per capita income would get a bigger chunk of federal aid than the states with higher incomes.

Ewing warned that if such a program does not come about, "we face the certainty that experience in the last depression will be repeated in any future slump—a series of improvised, shifting, uncoordinated programs."

Social Security Administrator Arthur J. Altmeyer told a reporter the administration would be prepared to present its entire social security recommendations when the Ways and Means committee hearings start.

The committee's plan is to take up the public assistance phase of the program first.

Police to Continue Keyhole Peeping

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U.P.) —The Louisville chief of police, Carl Heustis, says his men will continue to peep over transoms and peer through keyholes, despite a supremem court ruling that such methods of gaining evidence are illegal.

"We owe the public an obligation to fight crime where and when tinued," "we even considered teaming up Major Charles Dlyle, our six-foot-fiver, with Patrolman Cornelius J. Burns, a five-foot-sixer."

Heustis explained, "Doyle, flat-footed, could peer over any transom in town at the same time that Burns, without stooping, could squint through the keyhole."

PLAN DANCE

The Disabled American Veterans organization will hold a dance Feb. 19 at Grotto Hall for the benefit of hospitalized veterans. Dancing will be from 9 p m. to 1 a m with music by Tommy Van and his orchestra.

Will Study Farm Health

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Essentials of an effective public health program will be high on the discussion agenda for the fifth annual state conference on rural health here Feb. 28.

Highlight of the conference will be a talk by Floyd Lower, agricultural extension agent in Columbiana county, who will describe how his county has mobilized its resources to eliminate disease and improve community health.

Other subjects, such as animal disease that affect man and diet and health, will be discussed by Dr. James H. Steele of the U. S. Public Health service, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. Jonathan Forman, editor of the Ohio Medical journal, Columbus, and Dr. Carl E Buck of the Department of Public Health, University of Michigan.

Members of the Ohio Rural Health council who will take part in various group discussions include Mrs. Roy Archibald of Minerva; Mrs. E. H. Fullmer of Elyria and Mrs. Calvin Royer of Van Wert.

Scientists Start New Experiment

Cancer Cure Hopes Hinted

SAN ANTONIO — (UP) — Scientists at the Southwest Research institute have disclosed the start of an experiment that may result in a new clue to the cancer problem.

It is an experiment in which an unknown substance given out by the germ that causes pneumonia will be tested against leukemia, cancer of the blood stream for which there is no known cure. The experiment will be carried out on mice into which leukemia has been induced.

These scientists emphasize that even if the substance is successful in mice, that would not insure it would work in human beings. However, as in most all cancer research, trials must be made first in experimental animals.

The substance was first discovered in a joint project with the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology, Worcester, Mass., and has shown some results in the treatment of a certain type of cancer in mice.

At the International Cancer conference in St. Louis last year it was reported that the substance diminished cancer in 55 per cent of mice treated.

The laboratory in Massachusetts and the one here still are working together on the project. The substance is obtained from culture, or media, in which the bacteria that causes the pneumonia is permitted to grow and reproduce. Under the present plans the substance is grown at the laboratory here and is then sent to Massachusetts for purification.

It has been identified by chemical means, but has not yet been reduced to its crystalline form. Once a suitable concentration has been obtained at the Massachusetts laboratory, it is returned to San Antonio.

The substance already has caused regression in mice malignant tumors and now the scientists here are starting an experiment to test it against leukemic animals.

Ohio Supreme Court Gives OK to Raffle

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The Ohio Supreme court yesterday ruled Fremont lodge of the Loyal order of Moose could not be prosecuted on a criminal charge because it is not a legal entity.

The lodge had been convicted in the Common Pleas Court of Sandusky county on an information filed by Prosecutor Alexander L. Hyzer. He charged the lodge violated the gambling laws by raffling off an automobile. The conviction and fine of $500 were affirmed by the Court of Appeals.

Congress Now Considering Case of Damaged Violets

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The hard-working members of your 81st Congress are about to consider a bill for relief of withered geraniums and African violets.

The measure was authored by Thurston Ballard Morton, R., of Glenview, Ky. It was one of 475 so-called private bills (for relief of citizens who ask Congress to help them when the courts can't or won't) which already have been introduced this session. These run a zig-zaggy gamut from relief for about-to-be-deported sheep herders from Spain to folks who lost their undershirts from deflated German war securities in the first World war.

In the case of the geraniums and the African violets, the victim is Mrs. Grace C Walker, who lives in the vicinity of Louisville, Ky.

She blames the army partly and a prominent aircraft company mostly for her trouble.

In 1942, the government condemned a plot near the Kingsley Walker nursery in behalf of airplane folks who were fixing to start processing and testing flying machines. Army officers were in charge.

Later, Washington did the same to another hunk of land right across from Mrs. W's greenhouses, which contained, she said, 75,000 square feet of glass.

While they were at it, the government people kicked over and uprooted about $1500 worth of shrubbery. Mrs. Walker wrote to Washington and Washington promised to replace same. But it never did — not a sprig.

Not only that, another tract in front of the nursery property was condemned for a highway leading into the testing grounds. The concrete apron for the road was a foot higher than the greenhouses. What happened? Floods. More money out of the Walker wallet.

Then the government started to test those planes. The army took off and it landed. And while it was doing it, within a few hundred yards of all that glass, disaster occurred. In the form of broken glass.

Record Feed Supplies Saving Stock

Five-Year Decline Now Ending

Huge Corn Crop Receives Credit

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Record high feed supplies have checked a five-year decline in the number of meat animals on American farms, the Agriculture department reported today.

The department said, however, that total livestock and poultry declined slightly during the past year to the lowest level since 1939.

But it added that the downward trend "was reversed" in late 1948 thanks to the record corn crop. And the decline for the year in livestock and poultry was only one per cent, the smallest for any 12 months since totals began to drop from the all-time peak of five years ago.

In its annual inventory of live stock as of Jan. 1, the department said the number of all cattle actually was up slightly for the year, and hogs showed "a modest increase." But sheep numbers dropped.

Because livestock prices have come up as production declined, the farm value of total livestock and poultry hit a new high of $14,697,000,000 as of Jan. 1.

This was 10 per cent above last year. However, prices have declined somewhat since Jan. 1.

The inventory did not take into account losses from the western blizzards in January. Cattle losses were estimated at 81,000 head in four western states as of Feb. 1.

The department had previously reported that some 90,000 sheep were destroyed by the blizzards in the four states.

The department has predicted the overall supply of meat this year will be about the same as last.

Disapprove Unification

NEWARK —(UP)— The legislative committee of Ohio Conservation Congress yesterday reeral assembly disapprove a bill now in the Senate calling for reorganization of the State Conservation department.

The congress, headed by William L. White of Newark, claims a membership of 60,000 Ohio sportsmen and conservationists.

The Conservation department measure now before the state Senate (SB 13) is "too voluminous, too complicated and too confusing," the legislative committee held.

The committee said it also opposed the proposed bill's method of appointing the conservation commission, its director and the discharge of officers.

The Conservation Congress committee also recommended defeat of a Senate bill providing for field trial areas. Such a bill, the committee said, is unnecessary.

Butler Resident Inherits $18,000

Arthur Post, R. D. 1, Butler will receive $18,128.23 inheritance from the estate of his brother, William Post, a retired assistant railroad conductor, who died intestate in 1947 in New York it was disclosed today in Surrogates's court through filing of an inheritance tax appraisal of the decendent's property.

Luella Post Steinmann, New York City, is the administratrix of the estate, the gross value of which amounted to $40,385.75. The estate consisted of real estate in New York state, New York Central railroad stock, United States government bonds, life insurance and a retirement pension from the railroad.

There are 49,923 miles of trolley coach, street car and bus lines in the United States, the equivalent to 16 railroad lines between New York and Los Angeles.

Claims GOP Party War Now Ended

Scott Demands Coordination

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Chairman Hugh D. Scott jr., of the Republican National committee, said today that the Republican wars are over.

"The Republican party has had a good cry," Scott said. "The time has come now for a vigorous defense of the 80th (Republican) Congress and a coordinated effort to contrast its achievements with those of the present 81st (Democratic) Congress."

Scott was the center last month of one of the roughest party brawls in recent Republican history. It took place in Omaha, Neb., where an effort to oust him from the chairmanship was defeated by a 54-to-50 committee vote.

Scott discussed party propects in response to an inquiry about how he planned to unify the Republican party. He said he had felt that the party row at Omaha had to come.

"I feel there has been a clear airing of the division within the party," he said. "Now I feel strongly that the time is here for cohesion and the closest cooperation between the national committee and the party leaders in the Senate and in the House.

"I already have assured Sen. Taft and former Speaker Joe Martin of that. They were the first two persons I saw here when I got back from Nebraska. I wanted to assure the House and Senate leadership that the National committee would do its utmost to work in harmony with Republicans in Congress."

Scott was under fire in Omaha as a Dewey man. He was charged with packing the party's national executive committee with Dewey supporters.

In the two-day battle royal which grew out of those charges, Scott said Dewey would not and should not again be the party's presidential candidate.

"I will not provoke nor initiate any fight or any difference within the Republican party," he said.

Power Improvement Plans Being Drawn

BELLEFONTAINE — (INS) — Bellefontaine Chief Utilities Engineer F. M. Baxley yesterday began to follow out a city council order to prepare plans for a new water cooling tower, steam boiler generator and a 12,000 kilowatt-hour turbine generator.

Baxley said electric demands are growing beyond the city's present capacity to handle them. He said that the new plant, to be financed out of its own earnings, will almost double the city's power capacity.

Gifts Equip School Kitchen

Folk Songs Highlight Mothers' Program

A musical program featuring American folk songs and Negro spirituals was given Wednesday afternoon by members of the fifth and sixth grades of Rebecca Grubaugh school for the Mothers club at a potluck luncheon meeting held in the school gymnasium.

A special feature of the day was a shower held in honor of the new kitchen which is being equipped. Gifts included several dozens of tea towels, knives, serving utensils, scouring equipment, cleaning supplies and cooking pans.

Following the luncheon, Brownie troop No. 16, directed by Mrs. Robert Fair, with Mrs. Harry Sowash as assistant leader, presented the club with dish clothes and pot holders. Members of Brownie troop No. 21, under the leadership of Mrs. Maurice Taylor and Mrs. John Heckert, gave an original song of their own composition and displayed tea towels which they had decorated for the kitchen shower.

After "the thoughts of the day" by Mrs. Harry Cramer, the program was announced by Mrs. K. A. Donelson, as follows: Mrs. Ruth Sherman's sixth grade students, accompanied at the piano by Miss Beatrice Ervin, sang "Lil Liza Jane," "The Arkansas Traveler" and "Fairest Lord Jesus"; fifth grade pupils of Miss Leona Miles and Mrs. Freda Farmer, also accompanied by Miss Ervin, presented "On Top of Old Smokey" and "Onward Christian Soldiers." Dalton Derr gave a trombone solo of "Always."

Negro spirituals given by Miss Ervin's students were "Little David"; "Wake up, Jacob"; "Somebody's Calling My Name"; and "Holy, Holy, Holy." Mrs. Robert Brooks sang the Kashmere Song.

Members of the sixth grade sang Galway Bay with Keith McAllister at the piano, and "Battle Hymn of the Republic". A string duet of "Rondo" by Mozart was given by Mrs. Joseph Pival on violin and Mrs. H. F. Plaut on the viola.

The musical portion of the program was closed by the four classes joining in "God of Our Fathers." Miss Mercedes Blue, city music director, was introduced to the club by Jesse Clark, principal of the school.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Stanley Harper, president, the nominating committee for the coming year was named to include Mrs. Robert Brook, Mrs. Robert Bair and Mrs. L. E. Whiteleather. The meeting closed with the kitchen shower gifts being opened and displayed. There were 75 in attendance.

Leadership School Closes

The last meeting of the Leadership Training school, in which 150 religious leaders from 25 churches and religious organizations of Richland county were enrolled, was held Monday evening at the First Methodist church.

Between classes John Linsenmayer, director of the Council of Churches and Christian Agencies of Richland county which sponsors the school, presented the faculty with gifts in recognition of its work.

Those presented were Dr James Anderson, Wooster college; Mrs V. C. Stamets, First Evangelical United Brethren church; Rev. Matthew G. Madden, First Congregational church; and Maurice Taylor, executive secretary of the YMCA.

Rotary Club Gets Picture of Radar Defense Operations

Mansfield Rotary club members got an "inside view" at the workings of the Army and Navy's radar Tuesday.

Roger F. Marshall, public relations supervisor of the Ohio Bell Telephone company in Cleveland, demonstrated the principles of radar and other electrical phenomena at the Rotary club's meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel where he spoke on "The 'Magic' of Communications".

Marshall explained that he uses the term "communications" in connection with the many telephone companies' operations, because these companies transmit radio programs, telegrams, and telephotos or wirephotos as well as their normal transmission of telephone conversations.

He pointed out that the principle of radar was used by telephone companies long before it was utilized by the armed forces as a location or discovering medium.

Using two small boxes, each the size of three cigar boxes piled one on another, he then showed what happens when a radar transmitter sends out radio waves.

The one box sent out an ultra-frequency radio wave that the other box (about 15 feet away) received. When the second box received this low-powered or miniature radar wave a small light blub on top glowed. This was all done with the boxes pointed directly at each other.

Then the boxes were set adjacent to one another so that the antenna of the transmitter was not pointing at the receiver. The light bulb on the second box therefore was unlighted. With a piece of copper plate, representing an enemy plane, he reflected the radio waves from the transmitter back at the receiver and the light bulb glowed.

The glowing bulb represented the radar screen on a ship or at an anti-aircraft emplacement, and would show the operator of a radar unit that a plane was within the range of the apparatus. The exact position and speed of the plane is automatically computed by a regular radar transmitter with electrically controlled circuits, Marshall explained.

Marshall demonstrated an osciloscope which showed a "picture" of voices when various Rotarians spoke into an ordinary telephone attached to the device.

Marshall's appearance at the Rotary meeting was arranged by this week's Rotary program chairman, LeRoy Wittemire.

Stage Life Helps Production of Eggs

SUDBURY, Mass. (U.P.) — A little night life sometimes can be a good thing for hens, says John H. Whitworth, poultryman.

Asked to supply a hen for a scene in a local production of the play "Dress Rehearsal," Whitworth donated a hen that hadn't laid an egg in many months.

The hen was returned to him after the performance, and he found it had laid an egg in the hen house next morning. When he was approaced again, Whitworth, out of curiosity, donated a different non-layer.

Next morning he discovered the second hen, too, had become productive.

Air view of the Edgewater Generating Station, Lorain

A Report of Progress

$50,000,000 WORTH OF FAITH IN NORTH-CENTRAL OHIO!

"On Thursday, February 17, 1949 at Lorain, Ohio, we placed in operation a $10,000,000 addition to our Edgewater Generating Station that tripled its capacity to 100,000 kilowatts.

"Little more than a year ago we added a turbo-generator at the R. E. Burger Generating Station located on the Ohio River near sources of coal supplies. This addition doubled the maximum capability to 130,000 kilowatts.

"We also have under construction the largest unit ever built for this company—100,000 kilowatts additional capacity to the R. E. Burger Station. This is scheduled for completion in 1950.

"The five-year construction program in generating stations, transmission lines, substations and general improvements involves an expenditure in excess of $50,000,000. What does this mean to you?

"If you live in the North-Central Ohio area served by The Ohio Public Service Company, it means that this organization has faith in the future growth of the area.

"It means that the investing public, largely insurance companies using policyholder dollars, have been attracted to the stability of The Ohio Public Service Company and its possibilities for future growth by putting up $50,000,000.

"It means that more than 160,000 customers of ours will receive ample and efficient electric service for industries, stores, homes and farms.

"It means new jobs for men and women of good character and intelligence. Since the war the number of our employees has increased 60%. All are active citizens in the community.

"It means that we are a tax-paying, business-managed part of every community we serve, attracting capital under the free enterprise system which provides benefits for all.

"It means that the great American Team of customers, workers, investors and management, working in harmony and cooperation does produce a better way of life for all—the American Way."

3 Railroads Announce New Layoffs

3,000 Workers Join Unemployed

CHICAGO — (UP) — Three more railroads announced layoffs totaling almost 3,000 workers yesterday.

All three roads said the layoffs were the result of declining traffic.

The Milwaukee road announced that 1,800 will be laid off for three weeks beginning Monday. All the road's repair shops will be closed, officials said.

These include shops at Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Dubuque, Ia., Tacoma, Wash., and Terre Haute, Ind.

At Philadelphia, the Reading road announced the layoff for an indefinite period of 409 mechanics in its locomotive and car shops. A Reading official said business had declined and labor costs had increased.

The road said 289 men are being laid off at the Reading car shops and 100 at the locomotive unit. The remaining 20 are being furloughed at the St. Clair shop near Pottsville, Pa., officials said.

Jersey Central lines announced at New York that it is closing down its locomotive and freight and passenger car repair shops at Elizabethport, N. J. The freight car shop at Ashley, Pa., also will be closed.

Jersey Central officials said the shutdowns would be effected Feb. 21 and would continue to March 5, necessitating the layoff of about 775 men during the two-week period.

E. T. Moore, chief executive officer, said the road has incurred "substantial deficits" since the first of the year.

Three major railroads previously had announced layoffs. On Feb. 10 the New York Central announced the biggest single layoff since the 1929 crash. About 8,100 repair and maintenance were given notice of temporary dismissal.

The week before, the Pennsylvania announced the layoff of 2,500 maintenance workers, and early this month the Southern Pacific's western division laid off 2,520 men.

Domestic anthracite production is down 2,000,000 tons so far this year because of warm weather, and the decrease has cut into the traffic of the railroads.

ODDS ARE 35 TO ONE

HAMILTON —(AP)— Current odds are 35 to 1 that you can't "beat the rap" in a criminal case in Butler county Common Pleas Court, Prosecutor Jackson Bosch reported Tuesday. He said that of 36 persons arraigned so far this year, only one has been acquitted.

Business Lagging

Down Trend Holds Sway

NEW YORK — (AP) — Businessmen and government men take widely varying views today of what 1949 has in store for us—a recession, another year of prosperity, or an inflation jag.

All seem agreed that at the moment most business is lagging. But that's as far they'd go together.

Inflationary forces will probably become more active in the future, John D. Clark, member of the president's council to economic advisers, says. It will be April before we know if "a real decline in employment has set in," he adds.

The Truman anti-inflation program is given to Congress, asking authority:

To control prices and wages if goods get scarce or the cold war gets hotter; to expand industrial facilities "when necessary"; and to allocate scarce materials, such as steel and other metals, "when necessary."

Never Too Old

READING, Mass. — (UP) — Frosty mornings don't prevent 100-year old Uncle Willard A. Swan from being one of New England's most enthusiastic hunters. A favorite hunting companion, he says, is his "young" nephew, Dean Swan, who is only 65. They were out several times during the latest season, when Uncle Willard out-shot his nephew and bagged three red foxes.

JOURNEY'S END — Six-year-old Sandra Leigh Grimes looks sad as she clutches her "Three Little Pigs" and resigns herself to going back where she came from. Sandra was on her way by bus from Eaton Rapids, Mich., to her home in Mobile, Ala., when police decided she was too young to travel alone. They took her off the bus and wired her aunt in Eaton Rapids to come for her. (International Soundphoto)

German Industrialists Seek Recovery

U. S. Capital Wanted In Ruhr

By DANIEL DE LUCE

ESSEN, Germany — (AP) — Ruhr industrialists see west Germany, with its hard-working population of 46,000,000, as a wide open field for American private investment.

The men who run the smoky collieries and clanging steel mills of this vital territory dream of an economic junior partnership with the United States.

You hear no echo among them of Moscow's charge that Wall street has begun the "colonialization" of their fatherland.

They say west Germany must strive to convince the United States of peaceful and profitable opportunities here, so that American investors in the future will put as must as $2,000,000,000 into modernizing German industries.

★

Difficulties imposed by western allied suspicion and distrust are conceded. But the industrialists regard the polarization of the world between the United States and Soviet Russia as west Germany's ultimate salvation.

The babble of postwar German politicians is deplored by the ablest production men in the Ruhr. Socialization? Nationalism? Remilitarization? Lost provinces? It is a poor time to rake up disturbing issues like these, they say, when what west Germany really needs is foreign confidence and capital.

Place your own value on their words, but they swear the world must avoid a third war at any cost.

They speak of the necessity for an efficient integration of western Europe's heavy industry.

They point to the colossal resources of the Soviet union and the tremendous industrial development of the United States. They ask how a shrunken, outclassed Germany in the center of Europe could ever be mad or strong enough to destroy the peace again.

★

In their talk, at least, Ruhr industrialists are today the most pacifist and internationally-minded of Germans. They foresse no hope of restoring west Germany to economic health without western European cooperation.

But they are tough, stubborn men on certain issues. They are fighting with a strategy verging on passive resistance against the further dismantling of their plants for reparations.

West Germany's economy is founded on coal. All paths to prosperity or disaster seem to start at the Ruhr's black pits.

The coal industry estimates it needs new capital of 3,500,000,000 marks ($1,050,000,000) in the next five years. Three-fourths of that sum is for developing new mines and modernizing old ones. The remainder is for rehousing 170,000 miners and their families, now living in wretched circumstances.

★

Hard coal production slightly exceeds 330,000 tons daily. German engineers insist it can't be pushed much above 350,000 tons without substantial new investments. Before the war, it was 450,000 tons.

The only large sources of private capital in west Germany at present are the insurance companies. A German survey recently indicated they would barely have 150,000,000 marks ($45,000,000) available in 1949 for investment. This would not be enough to keep even the coal miners' housing program going on schedule.

An early withdrawal of allied occupation forces would contribute to relieving the financial dilemma. But in the long run, industrialists assert, the best solution for west Germany is to persuade Americans to buy into enterprises here.

They say such private investment should even begin before ERP aid stops in 1952 or west Germany's patched-up economy will fall apart.

That's what they say. Believe them or not.

Churchmen Complete Plans For Father and Son Banquet

Annual father and son banquet of Central Methodist church, given under auspices of the Methodist Men, will be held Friday evening at the church.

Advance sale of dinner tickets indicates a capacity crowd, stated Virt A. Simpson, new president of Methodist Men, this morning. The church parlor where the meal is to be served will accommodate approximately 200 persons.

Following the dinner, which will begin at 6:30 p.m., there will be a program. Dr. Norman Summerville of Galion will be the principal speaker with a talk of special interest to men and boys, stated Simpson.

Organization meeting of the Methodist Men was held recently at the church. New officers elected, in addition to Simpson, were Robert Boroff, vice president; Paul Tucker, secretary; Hamlin Bishop, treasurer.

Following the election, the new officers at once began preparing for the annual banquet. Despite the limited time available, all arrangements have been completed, Simpson declared.

Serving as banquet committee chairmen are E. Ray Jenkins, program; M. D. Hartley, publicity; A. Barker, membership; J. J. Swisher, social; and W. J. Long, planning.

Honeylamb and Flash Were Pals, But All Dogs Weren't Like Flash

THIS is the tale of Honeylamb, the sheep that thought she was a dog.

It is a story of what befalls innocence astray.

A year ago a newspaper friend of mine in Washington, D. C., achieved the dream of most city people—a place in the country.

It was an old 11-acre farm in Maryland. My friend, Herman Allen, his wife, Emmy Lou, and their two small daughters loved their life there immediately. So did Flash, the family's Springer Spaniel.

"Our first investment in livestock was chickens," said Herman. "After that we got a couple of geese and a few ducks. Then we decided we'd like to raise some real meat so we got four lambs."

The mutton quartet finally dwindled to one, which the Allens decided to keep over the winter.

"As we might have known, she became a pet," said Herman. "Not a pet really, as far as we were concerned, but Flash's pal. They played together, ate out of the same dish and went together to meet Ann coming home from the school bus."

Ann gave the sheep her name. Watching her frolic with the dog, the little girl said:

"Why, she's Flash's honeylamb."

The strange animal partnership became the talk of the neighborhood. People would come by and say, "Well, your dog and your sheep were up to our place today. Never saw anything like it before."

The two begged at backdoors for handouts, shared them together—and went on to the next place.

So close were they that at night Honeylamb flopped down beside Flash's barrel and slept with her head stuck inside. When cold weather came, the Allens built a shed to keep Honeylamb out of the wind. Flash immediately left his barrel and moved into the shed, too.

★

Their friendship might have gone on for years except that Honeylamb apparently got it into her head that she was a dog herself. And that would have been all right—except that no other dog but Flash understood it that way.

Recently there was a coon hunt in the neighborhood. A Maryland coon hunt is a special kind of thing. The hunters turn their dogs loose and sit in their cars, perhaps belting a little bourbon as they listen to the yowling hounds on the trail. It is the dogs and the coon, if any, who get the exercise.

Whether a coon is actually treed and taken is largely inconsequential and irrelevant. The hunters get most of their fun hearing the mellow mouth music of the hound concert.

Well, Flash came from a hunting breed himself. So when he heard the hounds out the other night he left his shed to join in the chase. And Honeylamb faithfully set out after him. She wanted to be in on the coon hunt, too.

Allen wrote me what happened:

"I missed Honeylamb the next morning, when she didn't show up to follow me to the car. But I figured she was just sleeping late.

"Later in the morning Emmy Lou phoned me at the office. She had found Honeylamb down by the creek. Poor Honeylamb, her throat was chewed to ribbons.

"She thought all dogs were like Flash."

Urges U. S. Post Office Reshuffling

Hoover Commission Files 4th Report

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The Hoover commission recommended today a complete overhauling of the postal service, including its removal from politics in the interest of efficiency and economy.

In its fourth report to congress on government reorganization, the commission proposed that:

1. The postmaster general be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate as is the case now, but that the job be held by a non-partisan official and not by the chairman of a national committee of one of the major parties.

2. Postmasters be removed from the requirement of Senate confirmation, a step that would end this form of patronage, which according to custom is the special prerogative of House members.

3. The position of director of posts be created. The person filling this job would be "the operating head" of the system, working under the postmaster general. Appointees would have to be confirmed by the Senate.

4. The postal service be decentralized into 15 regions under regional directors of posts and district superintendents.

The commission, headed by former President Hoover, pointed out that legislation would be required to carry out its recommendations.

It proposed new reforms including increases in rates on money orders, registered and insured mail, post cards, postal notes and various other services to raise 113 million dollars a year.

The commission contended that the present system does not permit competent cost accounting "fundamental to efficient management of a business."

Mrs. Reining In Hospital

Mrs. Christ Reining, 45, of Lexington, R. D. 1, suffered a fractured pelvis last night when the car in which she was riding turned over in a three-car collision at East Fifth and North Adams streets.

Mrs. Alma A. Green, 41, of 258 Wood street, driver of the car in which Mrs. Reining was injured, was charged with disregarding a traffic signal and was cited to appear in traffic court Feb. 23.

Police said the Green car had to be righted before Mrs. Reining could be freed and removed to General hospital. Her condition was reported as "fair" today by hospital attendants.

Mrs. Reining is the wife of a Mansfield painting contractor.

According to officers, Mrs. Green's car collided with a Reliable taxi driven by Nathaniel H. Burrage, 55 of 7 Grandview avenue, rolled over on its side and slid into a car operated by Ernest G. Hannan, 55, of 138½ South Franklin avenue. The mishap occurred at 7 p. m., police said.

Burrage told police he was driving north on Adams street and proceeded through the green light at East Fifth street when he saw the Green car approaching.

He said he applied his brakes but failed to stop before colliding with the right side of the oncoming car. Hannan's car was stopped at the intersection, headed west.

Both the taxi and Mrs. Green's car were damaged extensively, police said.

Funeral services for Dennis Lee Jackson, six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jackson jr., Bon Air avenue, who died Tuesday afternoon in a fire which leveled his home, will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Byerly funeral home in Lucas. Services will be private.

Dr. W. M. Taylor, pastor of Mansfield's Park Avenue Baptist church, will officiate and burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

The Jackson infant, first fire victim in Richland county this year, lost his life when flames swept his Garden Acres home shortly after 2:30 p. m. Tuesday. The fire occurred while the mother was next door phoning a doctor for the four-year-old brother who was ill.

The Jacksons, who lost all their household goods in the fire, are now making their home with Mrs. Jackson's sister, Mrs. Virgil Kissel, Ashland, R. D. 2. Mrs. Kissel said the family will be taken care of in her home until they can find other housing.

Rep. McGregor Raps US Aid For Turnpike

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio) disagreed today with the suggestion of an Ohio Democrat that the federal government pay from 75 to 100 per cent of the cost of the proposed Ohio turnpike.

The Democrat, Rep. Young, said last week the government should foot the bill because any such superhighway would be part of the national road network, would be important to national defense, and ought to be available to drivers free of toll charges.

McGregor said in an interview that a federally-financed turnpike would be "just another example of the government throwing away good money."

He said national funds will not be necessary because private capital already has shown an interest in the Ohio project.

Most turnpike proposals for the state anticipate financing through the sale of revenue bonds which would be paid off by toll charges.

"I don't see why it isn't all right for a turnpike to be paid for by the people who use it," McGregor said.

"If the federal government financed it, Ohioans would be paying for it anyway through their substantial contributions to federal tax revenues."

TOO MUCH CONTROL

McGregor suggested also that complete or nearly complete financing by the U. S. treasury might mean too great government control over the road and a consequent invasion of states' rights in Ohio.

He pointed out that except in the case of government reservations, like military establishments, no roads in any state are totally financed from Washington.

The present federal aid program calls for state funds to match U. S. contributions.

Before a turnpike can be built in Ohio to connect with the projected westward extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike, the Ohio legislature must approve enabling laws creating a commission to operate the road and handle the toll collections. Such legislation is pending.

Fox Hunt Scheduled

A double feature program is on tap for the Richland County Fox Hunters' association this week end, according to Harold C. Snyder, president.

The hunters will meet at Bunker Hill church at 8:45 a. m., Saturday, to be transported to the site selected for this week's drive, and ticket sales for the annual banquet will be held during the day.

The banquet has been set for March 16.

Saturday's hunt will be held near the scene of the last Newville drive when the hunters took a bag of nine foxes.

Transportation from the church to the hunt area will be furnished by Leland Darling, with afternoon hunters being met at the church.

Noon luncheon will be served by women of the church, according to Snyder.

Mystic Club Opens New Dance Series

The first in the spring series of dances sponsored by the Mansfield Mystic club will be held in the Masonic Temple ballroom Friday night.

Music will be furnished from 9:30 until 12:30 by Nels Blocker and his orchestra. A lunch will be served during the evening.

The remainder of the dances in the series will be held March 4, March 18, April 1, and April 22, according to Earl W. Deitrick, president of the Mystic club board of directors.

Draws Fine For Damage

James Burrage, 570 Lida street, was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler today for wilful destruction of the property of his father, Nathaniel Burrage, 7 Grandview avenue. The fine was suspended.

The younger Burrage pleaded innocent to charges of smashing two windows and sashes of his father's residence with the stock of a shotgun. Judge Schettler suspended the fine on condition that the son have the property repaired within a week.

The son claimed in court that he had helped build the Grandview avenue home and had lived there for two years when his father ordered him to move. After moving he returned to pick up a load of coal he had left there and at that time smashed the windows which he said he had installed.

Rites Arranged For Mrs. McCreary

Mrs. McCreary is survived by three sons, Frank W. of Marion, Cecil V. of Rogers and Lloyd V. of Upper Sandusky; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Lewis, 286 Wayne street, with whom she made her home and Mrs. Phillip Lodge, Mansfield; two sisters, Mrs. Della Tilton of Marion and Mrs. Louis Waserbeck of Prospect and five grand children.

Appleseed School To Get New Flag

A special assembly will be held at Johnny Appleseed junior high school next Monday for the presentation of a new flag to the school.

Rent Office To Be Moved

George H. Blecker, rent director of the Mansfield area, said today the rent control office, now at 30½ South Main street, will be moved to 48½ West Second street on Feb. 25. Training Course For Area 4-H Leaders to Open March 3

A series of three meetings for leaders of the 4-H older youth group and the older 4-H advisers of Richland, Ashland, Knox, and Holmes counties will be held on March 3 and again on March 10 and 17, at the Loudonville High school, it was announced today.

The sessions will train older boys and girls as well as the adults for work in the 4-H program, C. N. McGrew, Richland county extension agent, said.

R. Bruce Tom, rural sociologist of the Ohio State agricultural extension service, will hold a demonstration of games and other forms of entertainment at the March 3 meeting. He will explain how these new games can be taught best to youngsters.

The March 10 meeting will be addressed by Sewall Milliken, director of the Ohio rural health program of the state extension service. Milliken will hold a round-table discussion on "Farm Health and Safety", and how youth leaders may promote this type of program.

"Working With People" will be the topic of Mrs. Eunice Kochheiser, assistant state home demonstration agent, for a panel discussion to be held at the March 17 meeting.

Dixiecrats Have Say In Labor Law Action

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Southern Democrats — with whom President Truman has been feuding over civil rights—may have more to say than anybody else about the final form of the new labor law.

A dozen or more Dixie lawmakers apparently hold the balance of power in the Senate on vital amendments.

With the Republicans trying to save as much as they can of the Taft-Hartley act, and the administration trying to wipe it off the books, they are much-courted gentlemen these days.

Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, already has announced plans to handle the 'Down-South' boys with gloves. They won't be forced into night sessions if they filibuster against a proposed rules change which would kill future filibusters.

And their noses won't be kept to the debate grindstone. The administration has agreed to drop the rules change proposal and take up any major legislation that comes up.

The Senate is going to be a long time debating the labor measure, and as time goes on the Southerners' chances of preventing any civil rights action grow brighter.

With appropriations bills coming up soon, the administration won't be able to spare a month or so for civil rights talk if if wants to get any of the remainder of President Truman's program enacted.

GOV. THOMAS E. DEWEY'S friends say he won't be a candidate for public office again—unless he's pushed into it.

Dewey doesn't want to be specific about his plans because he has a New York state legislature on his hands now and another coming up next January. If he took himself out of the political picture the legislature might stop taking orders.

There always remains, of course, the possibility that when 1950 rolls around the Republicans won't have another candidate for governor. They might also lack an outstanding man to run for the Senate post now held by Democrat Robert F. Wagner.

Dewey's Lincoln Day speech in Washington didn't start any boom for him as a third-time GOP presidential nominee. Most Republicans in Congress seemed to think the party has "had enough."

★

A FORMULA is beginning to develop for handling Democratic patronage in states where States-Righters caused the party ticket trouble last November.

Southern senators who went off the reservation are being consulted about appointments for offices that require Senate confirmation.

Reason: if a Senator says an appointee is "personally obnoxious" to him, his colleagues usually won't confirm the nomination.

But the States-Righters get no look-in on patronage for non-confirmation jobs.

★

THERE'S a stinger in the recent promises that have been coming out of Congress to the effect that there will be no tax bill till next January.

Taxes can be made retroactive.

If June busts out with a heavy government deficit in sight, there may be some backing and filling in Congress. A tax boost might be in order then. It could be made effective as of last January.

Man In Coma For Six Years Regains Use of Voice, Arms

HARBORCREEK, PA — (INS) — A Harborcreek man who, to all practical purposes, "died" six years ago was gradually picking up the threads of his life today.

He is 57-year-old George E. Stanley, a former employe of the General Electric corporation in Erie. He lapsed into a mysterious coma in January, 1943, and has been without speech, sight or memory until he awakened last Thursday.

His first sensation, in his own words, was:

"It seemed as if I had been away a long time."

Members of his overjoyed family described his revival as "an almost fantastic miracle."

One of his two sons, Robert, was in the kitchen with his mother. He said:

"Both mother and I were so startled when we heard father's voice that we jumped. It was like a voice from the dead. We rushed into the room and father wanted to know what year it was."

Even the family physician, Dr. J. W. Switzer, admits he can give no medical explanation. He said that Stanley lapsed into the Rip Van Winkle-like sleep after suffering an apparent stroke six years ago.

Stanley awoke to learn that he had two daughters-in-law, that his two sons had been fighting in a great world war, and that his only daughter had died in Pittsburgh.

The stricken man talked immediately without trouble, though the rest of the family said they were speechless with amazement.

Although he is still paralyzed from the waist down, Stanley is happy that he can see and hear again and talk to his family.

Police Charge Macabre Joker

CLEVELAND — (UP) — A macabre sense of humor yesterday got Joseph Quirino, 28, an order to appear in police court and explain his actions.

His victim, Miss Helen Reese, 30, who said she knew Quirino only slightly, charged his practical jokes took the following turns:

He reported her death to an undertaker, who sent a hearse to her residence.

He turned in a call that she had been burned in fire, which resulted in the fire department appearing at her home on a false alarm.

He had a police car sent to the plant where she works, on a false report she had been injured.

Miss Reese hired a private detective to run down the practical joker.

Revolutionary Chemical Change Made In Bread

BELLEVILLEN, N. J.—(AP)—The bread most Americans eat is taking a revolutionary chemical change without anyone realizing it.

The agene, a gas used for a quarter of a century to age white flour, is coming out. Substituting is an entirely new gas for aging, known as chlorine dioxide.

The change is good for dogs, cats, rabbits and ferrets. It will not give them the running fits they occasionally got from the agene-treated flour.

But this new white flour doesn't do a thing for human beings so far as science has been able to discover. The change was made on the theory that what is bad for a dog may be bad for a man. It was made despite long experiments that failed to show any human damage from agene.

The change was made voluntarily, by the American flour-makers and their associates.

The British, who discovered the running fits in dogs more than two years ago, have taken no such action as the Americans. Their medical advisers say maybe taking out the agene gas is a bit hasty.

However, the British are now considering whether to give the British flour-makers two years to make the alterations. The Americans will have made the changes at a faster rate.

August 1 is the deadline set by the Food and Drug administration for stopping all use of agene. Most of the big millers already have changed.

This change cannot be made overnight. It requires new machines. Both gases, agene and the new one, are generated by machines, so that the white flour as it is ground is bathed in the fumes. The building of the new machines began many months ago. Hundreds of them are required for the entire American flour-milling industry.

These machines are made by the Novadel-Agene corporation here, where agene was invited about 30 years ago and where the substitute gas was also invented.

As a result of the change over, M. F. Tiernan, president of the corporation, reported to stockholders on Dec. 16 last that the usual $2.00 a share dividend would be $1.60. The drop, he told them, was due to the expenses of changing the aging of white flour.

Nowhere in the American milling industry is there any sign that anyone is going to profit financially. And nowhere has anyone advertised claiming credit for anything altruistic.

The agene process put the great American wheat fields of the midwest and southwest on a par with some in the American northwest a quarter of a century ago. Then much of the white flour had to be stored six months for aging, and this applied more to the midwest and southwest than to the northwest. Agene supplanted the six months, and made large economic savings.

One Drowns In Accident

ZANESVILLE — (INS) — One man was drowned and his companion rescued yesterday when their homemade motorboat overturned in the Muskingum river near Zanesville.

Police were dragging the river late in the afternoon for the body of Louis Farabee, 47 of Zanesville. Robert Lucas, 25, of Hopewell, half-owner of the boat, was taken to a Zanesville hospital after being rescued.

Lucas was rescued by employes of the Muskingum River Gravel company.

Both men are listed as mechanics of the Zanesville Rapid Transit company garage. Lucas said that he and Farabee decided during their lunch hour to try out their motor boat which they had made.

When the men got the boat into the water, it overturned. Farabee disappeared under the water's surface and Lucas floundered in the river until he was rescued.

Combine canned drained peas with cooked rice and canned drained mushrooms for a buffet supper dish to serve with cold meat and a relish.

Shelby Picks 3 Judges In Slogan Race

Contest Sponsored By VFW Auxiliary

SHELBY—Three judges were named yesterday to select the winners of the safety slogan contest being sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary in connection with the "Invitation to Live" safety campaign being sponsored this week by the same group.

The judges named were Robert Wendland, director of guidance at Shelby high school, Marjorie Koontz, 10th District president of the V. F. W auxiliary, and M. M. Moore, editor of the Shelby Daily Globe. The contest currently under way was open to children in the first six grades of the Shelby parochial and city schools.

The V. F. W. auxiliary together with Mrs. Mildred Davis, supervisor of the "Invitation to Live" safety campaign, and representing the Printograph company of Kansas City, Mo., a non-profit organization, are endeavoring to express to the people of the community the principals of safety by means of this one-week campaign.

Mrs. Davis gave some rather interesting statistics last night showing that during the year 1948 Shelby had eight fatal accidents. Of this number one was industrial and the others were traffic. Also the fact that 50 per cent of this number were persons under 30 years of age Mrs Davis stated the total number of non-fatal accidents for the year 1948 were reported as 181, more than doubling the 70 representing the year 1947.

In an effort to make the community safety conscious the group in cooperation with local merchants and individuals will distribute a national safety book in the area. Announcement of the slogan contest awards which will be given to 10 winners by the National Safety council, will be made later.

Mrs Levi Wents, vice president of the V F W auxiliary, has been supervising the campaign in the absence of the Auxiliary's president, Mrs. Estal Coleman

Burglar Ring Blamed In 3 School 'Jobs'

Holmes and Wayne Buildings Visited

MILLERSBURG — School buildings in Holmes and Wayne counties have been visited by thieves for the last two nights.

Tuesday night two schools were broken into and so identical were the jobs it is believed the same parties, possibly a ring of thieves known to have operated in schools in the southern part of the state, are responsible for the robberies.

The Big Prairie school in Holmes county and the Shreve school in Wayne county were both burglarized Tuesday night by thieves who gained entrance by breaking a portion of the glass from the front double doors at both of these schools, then reaching in and turning the lock. The back doors to each of the schools were opened and left that way, making a quick get-away possible.

At the Big Prarie school they took between $5 and $8 from the desk in the office of the superintendent and from the Shreve school they broke open a safe and stole around $700. This was money used in operation of the cafeteria and from some benefit affairs held to raise money.

The previous night thieves broke into the Killbuck school obtaining $16 in cash. Entrance was gained there by breaking a window. Around $11 or $12 in bills were overlooked in another drawer at the Big Prairie school, Deputy Barton said.

BUCYRUS — Service Director W. F. Pfleiderer informed city council at its meeting this week that work is progressing satisfactorily on the $463,000 waterworks softening and filtration plant project with the tentative completion date set for about Nov. 1.

The service director also reported installation of 11,500 feet of new cast iron water mains in various sections of the city had been completed. The work was done by the Verderber Construction company of Toledo. The new mains replace old wooden mains.

Council's utilities committee, headed by Dr. James E. Frey, chairman, will inspect the city garage this week to determine what steps should be taken to put the building into first class shape. Service Director Pfleiderer informed council the building is in need of major repairs.

Solicitor R. B. Spurlock was ordered to prepare legislation for the creation of the post of mechanical engineer, with the rank of lieutenant, in the fire department. In a letter read to council, Fire Chief William Mader requested establishment of the new position immediately.

Safety Director John Carroll said the parking area at City hospital will be increased to approximately twice its present size within the near future.

Council heard complaints from Councilmen D D Bibler, L. B. Thompson and C. V. Vollrath concerning the alleged reckless operation of taxis in the city and Police Chief Arthur L. Stuckert was ordered to contact the two taxi companies in the city and warn them against traffic violations.

Warns Vets On Policies

Veterans who took out National Service Life Insurance early in 1941, were reminded today by G. D. Weidemaier, local VA office manager, to renew it before the eight year term of the policy expires. "GI" insurance may be either renewed in its present form or converted to a permanent plan, such as 20-pay life, 20 year endowment, or any other type of insurance offered by the standard insurance companies.

Weidemaier explained that if the insured party wishes to give the beneficiary the choice of lump sum payment or one of the monthly payment plans, he must designate his policy as to be paid lump sum and leave it up to the beneficiary whether or not to change it to one of the monthly plans

Father of Twins Held; Support Payments Lag

Zediker Gets School Contract

Mansfield Firm To Build Addition

Contracts totaling approximately $192,600 for construction of a 17-room addition to the Union school northeast of Mansfield have been awarded by the board of education, President Ralph P. Gramly said today.

The general construction contract went to the Zediker Masonry company of Mansfield on its low bid of $148,495.

Other general construction bidders were the Howard Construction company, Columbus, $186,400, and Louis Zahn, Mansfield, $158,000.

Work on the project will be started as soon as the weather permits. Gramly said.

The heating contract went to the Charles Hoffman company, Mansfield on a low bid of $22,602.

The Mansfield Plumbing and Heating company received the plumbing contract on its low bid of $14,581.84. An electrical contract for approximately $7,000, awarded two years ago to the Richland Electric company, is still in effect, Gramly said.

Contracts were received two years ago, but they exceeded the funds available and a new bond issue was voted to finance the construction program.

When the addition is completed, Gramly said all grade schools in the Union Rural district would be consolidated in the new building. The addition will be made on both sides of the present high school building near Epworth.

The new portion of the building will include classrooms, a cafeteria, and music room.

The Lowest Bidder

"It's unwise to pay too much, but it's worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money—that's all. When you pay too little, you sometimes lose everything, because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do. The common law of business balance prohibits paying a little and getting a lot—it can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run. And if you do that you will have enough to pay for something better."

—JOHN RUSKIN

Stars Show Trouble Coming for Russians

NEW YORK — (UP) — The stars indicate that Russia is in for some stormy weather, Louis De Wohl claims.

"The stars exercise a certain pull on the affairs of man," De Wohl said "They indicate trends. But they do not predict the future"

De Wohl is a Berlin-born writer and astrologer, author of some 46 books, who was employed by the British intelligence service during the war to tell them what Hitler's astrologers were telling him about the stars

Here are the storm clouds seen by De Wohl on the Soviet union's horizon

1 -The Soviet constitution was adopted on a day when the planets were in the same unfavorable position as on the birthdays as such ill-starred persons as Napoleon I, Napoleon III, Oscar Wilde and Adolf Hitler.

"It might be said that the influence of the stars in such astrological positions would be to fill a body with great ambition which would ultimately end in chaos because of its greed and unscrupulous meanings of attaining its ends," he said.

2 —The final decision on China and the start of the communist offensive there began on a day when the stars held only ultimate tragedy

3 —The arrests of the Catholic and Protestant clergymen in the iron curtain countries occurred under the same zodiac condition

4 —The main stumbling block in the path of a communist world triumph is a man named Harry Truman who became President of the United States on "a day when the planets were in such an angle with their position on his own birthday as to guarantee him odds of 90 to 1 of being a success"

Act to Speed Rail Freight

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — The Pennsylvania railroad Tuesday announced an $8,800,000 project to remove "equipment restrictions" in five tunnels on its panhandle division which have slowed freight shipments

The latest project in the railroad's $20,000,000 improvement program affects tunnels in a 45-mile stretch of main line starting just west of Steubenville, and ending about eight miles east of Dennison

J. A. Appleton, vice president, said the tunnels were too small to permit passage of modern box cars and open loads of the high and wide variety, necessitating detours.

NATIONAL HEART WEEK – February 14-21, 1949

What Do YOU Know About HEART DISEASE?

Q. WHY DOES HEART DISEASE CONCERN ME?

A. Because illness of the heart and circulation are the greatest causes of death in the United States. They are responsible for one out of every three deaths. They strike all ages and kill more people than the five other leading causes of death . . . cancer, accidents, nephritis (kidney disease), pneumonia, tuberculosis—combined.

Q. HOW CAN I FIGHT HEART DISEASE?

A. FIRST: Know your own heart. Protect yourself and your family thru periodic health examinations including heart checkups. SECOND: Learn the facts about heart disease. The more you know the less you will have to fear. THIRD: Help science discover more about diseases of the heart and blood vessels by supporting research. Give what you can.

Q. WHAT ARE THE MOST COMMON TYPES OF HEART DISEASE?

A. Rheumatic heart disease is childhood's greatest enemy, killing five times as many children as infantile paralysis, whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and meningitis combined. Hypertensive heart disease (the result of high blood pressure) is most common among the middle aged. Coronary arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries which supply the heart muscle) is most common among the elderly, but also occurs in middle age.

Q. WHAT ARE POSSIBLE SYMPTOMS OF HEART DISEASE?

A. There are three common symptons. They are: pain, not over the heart but generally in the center of the chest; shortness of breath, and palpitation (a disagreeable sense of fast, or slow, or irregular heart beat). These symptoms do not necessarily mean that you have heart disease. They may be nervous or other disorders. See your doctor and be sure.

Q. CAN WORRY DAMAGE THE HEART?

A. No. Worry may produce such symptoms as heartache, palpitation, shortness of breath—but not heart disease. If you already have heart disease, worry can aggravate the condition.

Q. DOES OVERWEIGHT CAUSE HEART DISEASE?

A. No. But if you have high blood pressure or heart disease, overweight will put an extra strain on the heart and may cause further damage.

Q. CAN HEART DISEASE BE CURED?

A. Some kinds of heart disease can be cured by drugs and surgery. Other forms can be controlled by reducing the strain on the heart. By living within the limits of your heart reserve you can protect your heart and prolong life. This means, among other things, doing the proper work, cultivating a serene philosophy of life, avoiding fatigue, overweight, infections and emotional upsets. Your doctor knows the answer. Let him prescribe for you.

Q. HOW MUCH MONEY IS BEING SPENT FOR HEART DISEASE RESEARCH?

A. Funds for medical research have been pitifully small—so small that vitally needed studies have been delayed or abandoned. The funds available for research in rheumatic fever, hypertension and coronary heart disease are far below the minimum needs to cope with these killers.

Q. IS THERE ANY FUND TO WHICH I CAN CONTRIBUTE TO FIGHT HEART DISEASE?

A. Yes. The American Heart Association and its affiliated local heart associations composed of leading physicians and laymen, are launching a nationwide campaign to raise $5,000,000. This sum is vitally needed to fight heart disease with research, education, and community service. Your gift not only supports the national program, but 70% will be used for the development and expansion of cardiac services in your area.

Appleseed and Simpson 5's Battle Tonight

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

WE'VE OFTEN thought that sports would seem a mite funny if all events came out as they are slated to do "on paper." . . . Thanks to the human element we cannot be sure who will win what game and why. . . . Anyhow we still get a kick of trying to forecast things to come in the sporting world and so do most figures in the "muscle" business. . . . From all indications, there will be only three teams competing for the American league flag come summer. . . . We think so and so does almost everyone else we've chatted with. . . . Latest to give us that opinion was Bill Bradley, the scout who has been with the Cleveland Indian organization for some 32 years. . . . The three in question, of course, are Cleveland, Boston and New York. . . . Back to Bill. . . . He says, "Cleveland should win in a close race—but it all depends on injuries. We got through last year but a team has to be mighty lucky to play all season without any player being hurt." . . . Bill pooh-poohed the idea that the Yankees were getting too old with: "They have some young fellows and two of the best players in the country in DiMaggio and Henrich." . . . We asked him whether the addition of such pitchers as Fred Sanford and Bob Porterfield would make the Yanks tougher. . . . "Sure, but I still believe the Yank pitching will not be as good as ours."

★

ABOUT BOSTON. Bill said the Sox need lots of mound strengthening. . . . He thinks that Ray Boone and Al Rosen may come through to help the Indians but reminded us that it is always tough for rookies to break into a winning lineup. . . . Bradley believes the baseball clinics (like the one staged at Senior high yesterday) will be a great help to baseball and has noticed that all of the coaches are really sincere in learning more about the game.

★

THEN WE TURNED to Giant scout Jack McLain and his ideas of the National league race. . . . The former Ohio State star seems to think the National will be a four-team race with New York as the top team. . . . Also in Jack's quartet are Brooklyn, St. Louis and Boston. . . . He said all of the clubs seem to have too many IF's. . . . Citing the Giants as an example, Jack mentioned that pitching was their question mark. . . . Sam Webb, a youngster with only three years in OB, may be the mound answer. . . . He had a good season with Jersey City and underwent an arm operation this winter.

★

M'LAIN ALSO commented on the Mansfield American Legion's showing in the state junior tournament in Columbus. . . . "You had a fine ball club but the Cincinnati team had 'em a bit scared in the finals. Mansfield easily could have won the title, but Cincy seemed to have too much all-around pitching strength. Cincinati had the best Legion team in the country, I believe."

St. John's Court Team Wins 11th

PLYMOUTH — St. John's junior church team of Mansfield defeated the Plymouth reserves here last night, 45 to 36, for their 11th straight victory. St. John's trailed at the half, 17 to 12.

Sam Ward Could Write a Book about Calvert's Better Taste!

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Sam Ward, radio and television writer, of 1619 Broadway, has switched to Calvert Reserve. "Mellower, smoother, milder, lighter," he says. "I could fill a book about Calvert's better taste!"

City Crown At Stake In 'Big' Game

Tonight is the night!

It's the annual Simpson-Appleseed game and as far as hundreds of junior high school students are concerned it is the entire 1948-49 basketball season rolled into one.

The quintets representing Mansfield's two junior highs are to square off in Senior high school gym at 8 p. m. following a preliminary between their reserve teams.

For adults, the game is largely a chance to look over future stars, but for the students and players of the two schools, it is the most important event in their young lives.

BETTER RECORD

Regardless of the outcome, Johnny Appleseed will finish the season with a decidedly better record, but past performance are thrown out the window in this game.

Neither team has as good a record as usual this year. Appleseed won eight and lost four, while Simpson was losing four and winning seven.

In size the two teams are approximately even, as both average around 5-8. They are direct opposites in style however, as Simpson practices ball-control and passwork, while Appleseed has a fast-breaking team which fires from anywhere.

TOP POINT MAN

Without much doubt the most dangerous scorer in the game is Appleseed's cool little forward, Freddy Zahn.

Zahn has 118 points for a 10 7 average in the records of 11 Appleseed games that are available. The scorebook of the December game at Mt. Vernon was lost.

Zahn's running mate, forward Dave Schwein, also has a higher scoring average than any Simpson player with a 7 1 mark Benny Carbetta leads Simpson with 6 5.

Greenwich School Suspension Is Up For Another Look

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Officials of Greenwich High school in Huron County were to meet with H. W. Emswiler, Commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Association, here today to press their request that the association review its suspension of the Greenwich basketball team.

Greenwich was suspended by the association because its basketball coach, Raymond Low, took the team off the floor during a game with Wakefield, Feb. 4. Low has offered to resign as coach, if necessary, if the OHSAS will lift the suspension to allow the team to play in the county tournament.

Vaughan's a Seal For 1949 Season

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Floyd (Arky) Vaughan, national league batting leader in 1935 with a .385 average, will play with the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific coast league this season.

Vaughan, who played with the Pittsburgh Pirates while winning the national league hitting title, later moved to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

San Francisco Manager Frank (Lefty) O'Doul said he will probably use Vaughan in left field.

Schnittker Looks Cinch To Break Own Point Mark

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Dead-eye Dick Schnittker, Ohio State's basketball scoring ace, is within striking distance of his own Ohio State scoring record set last year when he tallied 322 points in 20 games.

In 14 games this season (he's missed playing in two), Schnittker has poured 280 points into the hoops, an average of slightly better than 18 per game.

If he can keep up his present pace, he will finish the season March 5 with around 350 points.

THIS SHOULD STICK

His own Ohio State record of 204 points in Western conference play may be unbroken, however, possibly because he missed the Iowa and Wisconsin games. The Buck sharpshooters has scored 108 points in seven league games. He must tally 96 points in the three remaining Big Nine tilts on the Buck slate to equal his record.

One of Schnittker's teammates is in a better position to fracture the Ohio State record for Western conference scoring.

He is Center Bob Raidiger, who leads the league in individual point-making with a total of 138 to his credit. Raidiger lacks 66 points of equalling Schnittker's record.

JUST ONE BEHIND

Tied for second in the Western conference scoring race are Wisconsin's Don Rehfeldt and Minnesota's Jim McIntyre with 137 points each. Of the top trio, all centers, Rehfeldt appears to have the best chance of winning the crown. He still has four league games, one more than Raidiger and McIntyre.

Two of the Bucks' remaining games are scheduled for Chicago stadium Saturday against Northwestern and March 5 with DePaul. Monday, the Scarlet and Gray quintet will be at Indiana. Remaining home games are with Michigan, Feb 26, and Michigan State Feb 28.

Morrow Court Tournament Opens Friday

IBERIA — The opening jousts of the Morrow county basketball tournament will take place Friday night on Morrow hardwood courts at Iberia, Johnsville and Edison.

Marengo, Chesterville, Edison and Johnsville are favorites.

Friday night pairings are: Iberia vs Sparta at Johnsville; Chesterville vs Edison at Edison and Marengo vs. Johnsville at Iberia. The cardington cagers drew the bye.

Semi-finals will be played Saturday night as the winners and losers of Friday's games will move to the Edison and Iberia Courts.

The play will be on the double elimination plan for the varsity and single elimination plan for the reserve teams. Reserve favorites are Marengo, Sparta, Johnsville and Iberia.

Bob Feller Gets Approval For VA Flight Training

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Bob Feller, who will earn approximately $72,000 this year as a pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, has received Veterans' administration approval for advanced flight training at government expense.

Veterans' administration officials in Cleveland said today that Feller, who served four years in the Navy, submitted a letter of justification to the VA explaining that he flies in connection with his business.

For the past year the VA has refused to approve flight instruction pay except for business purposes. VA officials estimated that tuition for the course would amount to approximately $500.

Feller owns a Beechcraft, named the "Strikeout Story."

Peace Will Come

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Benjamin F. Lindheimer, the big wheel of the All-American football conference, believes that "some time, somewhere along the line," peace will come between his circuit and the senior national league.

Major Scouts Aid Coaches At Ball Clinic

Some 60 area high school, American Legion junior and Hot Stove league baseball officials yesterday attended the coaching clinic at Mansfield Senior high school.

The school sponsored by probaseball was conducted by Bill Bradley, Cleveland Indians' scout, and Jack McLain, New York Giants scout.

They passed along information gleaned from present-day and former major league baseballers and augmented by their own knowledge of the national pastime. Nine lectures, dealing with all phases of the game, made up the program and each was followed by a question and answer period.

Both had many tips for young players. A few of these were.

"All players must follow instructions of the coaches and managers."

"Youngsters should not use too heavy model bats. They should be able to swing bat, not have bat swing them. Too many youngsters, wrongly, feel that a heavier bat gives them more power.

"No one will ride a player if he hustles.

"Any style of hitting is okay as long as the player gets results. No manager should try to change a player's batting style—unless he cannot hit. Then experimentation is necessary. Boudreau is a good example; he does nothing right, yet is one of the game's top hitters.

"If a player cannot throw well he has little chance in pro baseball."

Coaches attended from Mansfield, Ashland, Galion, Shelby, Elyria, Bellevue, Loudonville, Shiloh, Amherst, Willard, Plymouth and Homerville, Harry Mehock, physical education director of Mansfield public schools, was director of the school.

Tribe Signs Ex-Mansfield Ball Player

NEW YORK—(UP)—Boss Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians thinks Steve Gromek will be the Tribe's brightest pitching star of the 1949 season, and so it was with considerable joy that he tucked away the 28-year-old control artist's contract today.

Gromek was one of three Indians whose acceptance of terms were announced at the typical Veeckian hour of 11 p. m. last night. He formerly played shortstop for the Mansfield Braves.

The other two were Catcher Ray Murray and ancient Negro Pitcher Satchel Paige. Paige announced Monday that he had mailed his signed contract Saturday, but it didn't show up in the mail until yesterday.

The Yankees announced that Catcher Ralph Houk and Charlie Silvera have signed. Both played in the minors last season.

★

Two Redlegs . . .

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds yesterday signed Walker Cress and Frank Fanovich, pitchers, to 1949 contracts. Last season Cress, 29, pitched 60 innings for Cincinnati mostly in relief roles. He lost one and won none. Fanovich, 25, a southpaw, won nine games and lost 13 last year with Syracuse of the International league.

★

27th Dodger . . .

BROOKLYN — (AP) — Infielder Bob Ramazzotti, a candidate for the Dodgers' third base job, today signed his Brooklyn contract. He is the 27th Dodger in the fold.

Ramazzotti, plagued by injuries throughout his baseball career, hit .286 in 47 games at St. Paul of the American association last summer.

Santa Anita Derby Is Rich

ARCADIA, CALIF — (AP) — The 12th edition of the $100,000 Santa Anita derby Saturday may be the richest in its history.

It appears that no less than 12 candidates will answer the call for the mile and one-eighth event, wich would mean a purse of $137,800.

In 1947 the purse was $134,925 and On Trust hauled down a net $81,750 for owner E. O. Stice.

If 12 start this time, the net purse will be $90,700 to the winner.

The lineup of three-year-olds still figures as follows:

The favored team of Olympia and Ocean Drive from the Fred W. Hooper, Jr., stable; Count Victor, So La Ci, Admiral Lea, Hayseed, Stone Age, Swap Out, Audacious Man, Old Rockport, Duplicator and Bolero.

Mansfield High Schools Play on Road Friday

Bengal Cagers Trek Over Massillon Way

Both Mansfield high schools take to the highways tomorrow to conclude the next-to-last week in the regular Class A basketball season

Tournament competition for Class A schools begins the first week in March while the Richland county schools go into their annual joust starting next Tuesday at Senior high. The sectional Class A meet will also be played on the Senior high hardwood.

The Tygers of Vern Hoffman play their annual toughie at Massillon while Madison has a return engagement at Loudonville Tuesday night, Mansfield rocked Lorain, 68 to 49, and Madison took the measure of Willard, 55 to 47

WIN NINE GAMES

Except for a four-game lapse in midseason, the Massillon cagers have not been beaten Included in the nine wins and four losses are a pair of wins over always-tough Canton McKinley The Tigers have three regulars back from last year and a fine coach in Paul Schofer, who moved up from Hamilton this year

All of which means, Senior high will have to be at its best to protect that seven game winning streak. Last year, the Tygers tripped Washington high 53 to 44.

Washington's returning regulars are Chuck Galey, 5-10; Chuck Crone, 5-9, and Clarence Johnson, 6-0. Other starters are Ray Resh, 5-11, and Jim Poth, 6-3. Galey is the leading scorer with 177 points, Crone has 140, Poth, 125; Johnson, 93, and Resh, 41.

Massillon has beaten Canton Timken, 55 to 45, Steubenville, 47 to 42, Canton Lehman, 48 to 30, Alliance, 64 to 44 and 55 to 34, Canton McKinley, 47 to 45 and 45 to 39, Cuyahoga Falls, 55 to 52 and Toledo Macomber, 51 to 32 Losses were to Akron South, 50 to 63 Akron St Vincent's, 42 to 56, Youngstown South, 48 to 50, and Canton South 35 to 55.

Hoffman yesterday sent his charges through a rugged drill on fundamentals and defensive methods which may be able to slow down the potent Tigers' fast break The Tygers also polished up on their long inactive zone defense

In an attempt to get more heighth in the front line, Hoffman moved 6-3 Ed Schmitt to forward and Jimmy Anderson back to guard in place of Ken McCally in one combination last night However the regular starting lineup will be in there again tomorrow

★

Madison will attempt to square its season's record at nine victories and nine defeats when it invades Loudonville The Rams won 40-31 in the Madison gym earlier in the season

★

Meanwhile three Richland county teams fight for the league championship Lucas and Bellville battle at Bellville in the game expected to be the closest of the lot

Bellville and Ontario are tied for the league lead and if either loses the other can win a clear-cut championship Ontario is host to Union

Should Bellville and Ontario both be upset Lexington is waiting to step in and needs only to defeat Plymouth at Plymouth to tie for the title Butler invades Shiloh in the other game

The Plymouth basketball queen will be chosen between games Friday

Nominated for the honor are Imogene Baldridge junior Mary Joe Ganzhorn sophomore Mary Belle Heubarger freshman and Janice Ramsey and Henrietta Binion seniors

Police Arrest Bogus Bearden After Spree

NEW YORK — (AP) — Police said last night they had arrested a 27-year-old Cleveland salesman who posed as Gene Bearden, star pitcher of the Cleveland Indians, and who passed out autographed baseballs and worthless checks

Detective Lawrence Collow said the salesman was booked as Billy Wayne George on a grand larceny charge.

The man passed three worthless checks totaling more than $1,000 on a New York jeweler, Collow reported.

The detective gave these details:

George, who gave his address as 1834 East 65th street, Cleveland, came to New York three days ago and bought four boxes of baseballs

He became friendly with the New York jeweler after telling the jeweler he was the lefthanded pitcher who helped hurl the Indians to the American League pennant and World Series victory last fall

The two visited a night club where the jeweler cashed two of George's checks and where George distributed a number of autographed baseballs to an admiring public

George appeared near the jeweler's store yesterday and started giving out autographed baseballs to pedestrians from a taxicab.

The salesman was arrested after the jeweler checked with the Cleveland Bank on which the checks were written

The detective said the salesman bore little resemblance to the Cleveland baseball star

Officials Spend Plenty of Time In Classroom

By CHARLEY STINE

Basketball officiating has taken more blasts than ever this year but the men who blow the whistles are trying to do something about it.

Gus Fan, who has been exercising his inalienable right to boo a little louder than usual, probably doesn't realize that the "lazy bums' in the striped shirts spend more time preparing to officiate than they do in the actual performance

For instance, the local North Central Ohio officials association holds meetings every Monday during the regular season to study and discuss interpretations of the rules

MEET ALL OVER

Such associations are in operation in all sections of the state and attendance is mandatory by the Ohio High School Athletic association An official must take part in four out of seven of the meetings to be eligible for a renewal of his license the following year

Vere Smith is president of the local association and Jim Lymper, secretary Meetings are held at the naval reserve armory on Ashland road

Regular procedure for the association calls for sending of a representative to interpretation meetings in Columbus at the beginning of each basketball and football season The representative, one of the more experienced arbiters, then in turn gives the interpretations at local sessions

USE SOME MOVIES

In addition, the association shows movies of play situations, holds public clinics, and acts as a clearing house for schools seeking officials for games

Perhaps the most overlooked and most important feature is opportunity afforded area coaches to take the floor at the meetings and voice their opinions on officiating Coaches are welcomed to tell just how they think the game should be called at any time

Recently the NCOOA published a booklet with a list of all members, which was distributed to area coaches In the books was space for both coaches and officials to mark their schedules

Around 150 registered officials are now members of the local association, making it the largest group in the state Many of the men work college as well as high school ball Secretary Lymper has been placed on the Big Nine approved list for next season by Coach Tippy Dye of Ohio State.

New Wisconsin Coach Goes Hunting For T Quarterback

By CHARLES EINSTEIN

CHICAGO—(INS)—Ivy Williamson, the tall fellow who has been elected to lead Wisconsin out of the boiler room of Big Nine football, passed a hand over his brow and said he was looking for a T-formation quarterback

Nobody raised his hand

Williamson, at a luncheon during which he was formally introduced to Chicago newsmen, grinned and said

"Well I may be able to make a good T-formation quarterback out of one of Harry Stuhldreher's left halfbacks"

That in capsule form, demonstrated the problem that faces Williamson, who succeeded Stuhldreher as Badger football coach last month He is bringing that T, or split T, into Wisconsin, and he has got a single wing ball club to work with

NOTHING STRANGE

Not that the single wing is anything new or strange to Western Conference football Michigan won the national title using it last season, Ohio State and Minnesota ran out of the single wing, and Indiana worked with it Only four teams—Northwestern Iowa Purdue and Illinois—were strict T-formation people

Now Wisconsin is going to join them more or less How more or less, Williamson will find out when he opens outdoor practice at Madison Wis as soon as possible after March 28

New Grid Coach

ST PETERSBURG, FLA — (AP) — Paul Jenkins former University of Kentucky quarterback has been selected head football coach at St Petersburg high school He is currently head coach at Vero Beach high school on Florida's east coast

Believe Bonus Clause Is OK

ITHACA, N Y —(INS)— Philadelphia Phillies manager, Eddie Sawyer, and two former major league pitching stars believe baseball's reserve clause a good thing

Sawyer, former New York Yankee ace Vernon (Lefty) Gomez and George Earnshaw, one-time Philadelphia Athletics star, all defended the clause during an appearance at an Ithaca college baseball clinic yesterday

Gomez observed that Danny Gardella, former New York Giant, who has questioned legality of the reserve clause in connection with a $300,000 damage suit, "should suffer the consequences" for jumping to the Mexican league.

Cleveland Fights Indians On Stadium Rental Topic

CLEVELAND—(INS)—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians and city officials squared off today for another round in their municipal stadium rent battle

Veeck, under fire since Monday over the rental problem, was invited last night by Councilman Henry W Speeth to appear before the council finance committee Feb 28 and state his case

Speeth, chairman of the committee and Democratic floor leader of the council, has been one of Veeck's most outspoken critics

DON'T WANT QUARREL

In making the invitation, he stated

"I don't want to quarrel with Veeck, but . I have said before and I will say it again that under the present contract for use of the stadium by the Indians the city is being gypped

"But there is more than one side to every problem and we want to hear Veeck's side"

Earlier yesterday Speeth threatened to throw Veeck's "lavish gifts and parties" into the dispute Veeck's reaction to that was immediate and sharp He commented

"The minute council sticks its nose into my personal affairs, they're on dangerous ground"

ONLY SIX APIECE

The exchange between Speeth and the Tribe prexy broke into headlines following publication of figures showing that the Indians paid only $1,978 per game to the city, averaging about six cents per fan, for rent on the municipally-owned stadium the past season

Speeth also questioned the Indians' promotional expenses and "about reports of lavish gifts of diamond rings and television sets, about reports of a party for world series sportswriters said to have cost $75,000 and of other lavish parties"

NOT FOR DISCUSSION

The fiery Indian boss responded that his "personal affairs aren t any topic for general discussion or for discussion by city council and I will not be coerced"

He added that city councilmen apparently do not realize that the $450,000 spent by the Cleveland Baseball corporation in "promotional work—advertising, party for Ohio mayors, ladies days and entertainment for 400,000 school children"—aided the whole city last year

Veeck left Cleveland late yesterday for Cincinnati where he was scheduled to make a speaking appearance

Faces Operation
